FEARS OVER USE OF SHUTTLE BUS

HEALTH bosses fear a shuttle bus service between Wolverhampton and Cannock hospitals – set to cost £250,000 a year – will not be used.

The free non-stop buses will see patients undergoing non-emergency surgery, for the likes of broken hips and knees, transferred to Cannock Chase Hospital in Brunswick Road.

Report by Adam Burling

The hospital is being taken over by the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust.

Health chiefs from Wolverhampton will send 350 of their staff to Cannock to join existing employees, overseeing around 10,000 patient cases a year.

As part of the move – which will start in May and take up to a year to fully implement – buses will transfer patients, staff and visitors between the two hospitals.

However New Cross chief executive David Loughton says the buses won't be anywhere near at full capacity.

He said: "The facts are, it won't get used that much.

Equipment

"Very few people use public transport to get to New Cross. I think if you saw more than four patients on each bus, you'd be lucky."

The single decker buses will run every 30 minutes, getting patients to Cannock from 7.30am, with the final bus home running 20 minutes after visiting hours finish at 8pm.

They will also transfer vital medical equipment between the two sites.

It will cost around £20million to upgrade Cannock Chase Hospital with work starting already on bringing theatres and wards up to modern infection prevention standards.

Mr Loughton said: "We're making good progress now.

"It frees up room here at New Cross for us to take on emergency work from Stafford and I'm envisaging that everything will run smoothly."

Ambulances in Cannock are already being diverted to Wolverhampton instead of Stafford as New Cross bosses gauge an idea of the extra demand.

Mr Loughton said the decision to dissolve the trust would bring stability to staff and patients.

"I believe that decision provides us with a superb opportunity to make a real difference to the patients and populations we serve," he said.

Fifteen new beds are being added at New Cross to cope with patients travelling to Wolverhampton due to reduced A&E opening hours at Stafford Hospital.

Administrators will work closely with bosses from the Royal Wolverhampton Trust and the University Hospital of North Staffordshire to make the planned changes.

Meanwhile, GPs from across Cannock Chase will receive an update on the Trust Special Administration process. The meeting of the Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group takes place at 2pm today (Thursday).

Big top secret wows school pupils

Neil, Clive and Jon Sensible from Circus Sensible with pupils at Hob Hill Primary, Armitage Lane, Rugeley

ROLL up, roll up for the biggest secret in town. Six school staff were sworn to silence over a surprise for 224 schoolchildren.

As part of preparations for today's World Book Day, Hob Hill Primary School in Rugeley invited in the circus – big top and all – to the shock of pupils, parents and the majority of teacher.

Pupils are currently reading Leon and the Place Between by Angela McAllister, based on magic and the circus.

To tie in with the book, the pupils watched a circus show and then got their chance to try out skills such as juggling. Ben Preston, head of the Armitage Lane school, said the day had been a big hit.

He said: "We had total secrecy over this. Not even some of the teachers knew this was happening.

Reading

"It was brilliant to see everyone's faces light up as they saw the big top.

"World Book Day is all about getting children into reading and so we have decided to make a week of it and this was our big event.

"At the end of the day there was another performance by the circus and some pupils got to show off some of the skills they had learned."

Meanwhile, youngsters from the school have also taken time out to learn about wildlife gardening.

Children were joined by teachers and staff from Staffordshire Wildlife Trust to plant a range of vegetables as part of the charity's Schools Grow it project. The pupils got their hands dirty planting onions, garlic and cabbages in four raised beds specially constructed in the school's allotments.

The group also learned about composting, planted seeds in a greenhouse, installed new benches and set up a hedgehog hibernation box.

Working group in new HS2 route call

CAMPAIGNERS in rural Staffordshire have proposed the route of HS2 should be changed and go through Cannock and Walsall.

A working group in Lichfield set up by MP Michael Fabricant has suggested alternative routes for the high speed line away from the cathedral city.

One would see the high speed link follow the path of the M6 and M42 near Birmingham Airport before skirting the A5 and M6 Toll to Cannock.

It would then continue alongside the M6 to the west of Stafford.

Veer

A second proposal is running the line out of Birmingham alongside the A38 and M6 where it would veer off near junction seven passing to the east of Walsall up to the Churchbridge interchange south of Cannock and then follow the route of the M6 to Manchester.

Currently the line would pass around Lichfield, cut through the Ridwares, Colton and Great Haywood, and join the West Coast Mainline near Rugeley.

Mr Fabricant said: "It is important to note that when considered overall in the context of phase two as well as phase one, these routes are straighter than HS2's 'preferred' route."

Council raises the standard

THE Commonwealth flag will be raised outside Cannock's civic centre next week.

Local authorities will simultaneously raise the flag on Monday, March 10. Council chairman Doris Grice will lead the Cannock event in Beecroft Road at 10am.

Commonwealth flags were presented to representatives from Staffordshire's district and borough councils in February.

Councillor Grice said: "It is an opportunity for each of us to mark Commonwealth Day."

Police in pledge as premises targeted

POLICE have pledged to crack down on vandalism in Hednesford after figures showed the number of attacks on businesses had gone up by nearly a third.

Traders raised concerns over the number of cases of anti-social behaviour in the town at a meeting with police bosses. Some business bosses said they had even had to pay for CCTV in a bid to keep their properties safe.

Figures show there were 17 attacks in the year up to March 3, compared with 13 in the previous 12 months.

Councillor Linda Whitehouse said her business, Whitehouse & Partners in Market Street, was vandalised last week.

Cameras

"I returned from a meeting last Wednesday to find my windows broken, walls graffitied and locks superglued," she said. "I am now going to have to pay £1,000 for CCTV cameras."

Aquarius Ballroom manager Mike Allsopp said he had also been a victim of crime in recent weeks.

"I have got CCTV cameras and I have spent a further £400 since on more cameras," he said.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe said he wanted to see more traders sign up to the Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford Business Crime Reduction Partnership.

Youngsters to show talent

YOUNGSTERS will show off their talent in Great Wyrley this weekend.

The Great Wyrley Carnival's Got Talent contest takes place on Saturday (March 8) from 7pm at at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School. Entry is £3 on the door. The carnival is on Saturday, June 28.

Glory Days ahead for record label

AN INDEPENDENT record label in Rugeley has released its fourth album – describing it as its most ambitious so far.

Glory Days is blues/jazz singer Sarah Gillespie's third release and has been launched by Those Old Records on transparent yellow vinyl.

Those Old Records was set up by Chris McGranghan, owner of a Brewery Street shop of the same name. It exclusively buys and sells rare and collectable vinyl. Chris said: "The album has had superb reviews in The Guardian, The Financial Times, Mojo and other publications.

Created

"This is the fourth release on the Those Old Records label and by far our most adventurous. The album launch was recently held as the famous Vortex club in London and was sold out."

The record label was created in 2012 primarily to release an album by Peter Parker's Rock 'n' Roll Club. It was released in January 2013 on red vinyl.

Chris, a former IT training manager, said all 350 of those limited edition albums had sold out. A second release by the same band, this time in blue vinyl, also proved popular.

Chris is looking produce more vinyl records under his label and is asking for other artists to get in touch at www.thoseoldrecords.co.uk

NHS boss speaks of regret over scandal

OUTGOING NHS boss Sir David Nicholson has this week admitted it was a 'mistake' not to speak with patients and their families over the Stafford Hospital scandal.

Sir David said he 'bitterly regretted' not speaking to campaigners such as Julie Bailey over the saga which has tainted his 36 years in the health service.

The NHS England chief executive said he avoided speaking to those affected because he did not want to be embroiled in a 'media circus'.

Sir David spoke about a visit to the troubled hospital after a damning report into Stafford Hospital was published in 2009.

He said: "The biggest and most obvious mistake that I made was when it became clear when the Health Care Commission reported on Mid Staffordshire and I went to the hospital and I didn't seek out the patients' representatives and the people who were in Cure The NHS, and I didn't do it because I made the wrong call.

Mistake

"I judged I didn't want to be involved in a media circus and I was wrong.

"I didn't do it and then I got myself into a tangle of talking to people through the media, and that continues to be a very bad thing. That was a mistake that I made that I bitterly regret."

For a time, Sir David was in charge of the regional health authority responsible for the trust while patients were being mistreated.

He came under intense scrutiny for his role in the fiasco and resisted calls by campaigners to resign when the publication of the Francis Inquiry revealed the true extent of appalling care.

Cure the NHS campaigner Ms Bailey said Sir David had 'ample opportunity' to speak to the campaign group but never chose to do so.

Maternity unit flaw pointed out

ONE of the county's top health chiefs says to reinstate a consultant-led maternity unit at Stafford Hospital would mean having to restore most of the services that are being stripped.

The hospital's maternity unitis to become a midwife-led centre dealing with half the number of births than at present.

Prime Minister David Cameron said he wants to see a fully-functioning maternity unit and Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt has ordered NHS England to look into whether it is possible to have one put in place.

But Andrew Donald, lead officer at the Stafford and Cannock Clinical Commissioning Groups, said the essential services needed to run such a unit were the same ones being taken away as part of the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust break-up.

He said: "If we want to have a consultant-led maternity unit then we need to have things like paediatrics, special care baby unit, critical care and support services and all that increases the costs and that brings us back to square one."

The following day the Premier Suite hosts its annual St Patrick's Irish family Sunday lunch, with music from Cardinal Griffin School band Clanna Gael, Dempsey's Lot, Irish dancers and a magician.

Go green and bag a bargain at trust HQ

GARDENERS are being urged to bag a bargain – and go green – at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust.

Throughout March and April the charity is running a three-for-two offer on bags of peat-free 'Wild & Free' – a 100 per cent recycled compost made from green waste from kerbside collections – at its Wolseley Centre HQ.

The majority of peat sold in the UK is imported from Ireland and Baltic countries, where peat extraction is responsible for destroying valuable wildlife habitats.

James Wood from Staffordshire Wildlife Trust said: "Gardeners account for around 70 per cent of horticultural peat use. Together with other uses of peat, this is a major threat to our remaining peat bogs.

"Going peat-free is important to help preserve these vital peatlands. Plus, each bag of Wild & Free sold will help to fund conservation work by Wildlife Trusts across the country."

Wild & Free is available from theWolseley Centre at £2.99 for a 40 litre bag, or, £5.98 for three bags with the special offer.

For more information call the trust on 01889 880100.

Colleagues will read to 17 children from St Thomas More RC Primary from 2-3pm.

The store team will also help children create their own bookmarks and masks and each child will receive a Disney Tangled DVD.

Guard in delivery to bank is robbed

A SECURITY guard was shoved out of the way by a robber who made off with an unspecified amount of cash.

The guard was shaken but unhurt following the robbery at 2.10pm last Thursday, February 27. It happened as he delivered cash to Barclays Bank in Burntwood.

The offender wore a blue hooded top and a red and white helmet with a design on the lower half. Following the robbery, he then ran across a car park onto High Street and jumped onto a white/grey motorcycle, being ridden by another male, wearing a black bodywarmer over a blue jacket with a white helmet bearing a black design.

The bike, which had been stolen from Wednesfield, was then joined by other motorcycles and headed towards Bridge Cross Road.

The stolen machine was later recovered near Morrisons in Burntwood.

Anyone with information, or who saw anyone suspicious or the motorcycle in the area, is asked to call DC Martin Wildes at Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 355 of February 27, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Driver, 17, is hurt in crash

A 17-year-old girl suffered back pain in a three-car collision in Burntwood. She was freed from her car and taken to Stafford Hospital.

No one else was injured in the crash in Bridge Cross Road, close to Chase Terrace Technology College, at around 12.30pm on Friday, February 28.

An Ambulance Service spokesman said: "The other occupants from the vehicles were assessed at the scene but did not require hospital treatment.

"The collision closed the road in both directions, causing traffic problems for motorists for a time."

Showman talk

THE Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase welcomes Ned Williams on Wednesday, March 12. He will give an illustrated talk on 'King of Showmen' Pat Collinsat the Valley Road, Hednesford, museum at 7.30pm, followed by tea or coffee. Admission is free.

People Power could lead to cash award

PEOPLE power could earn community groups up to £3,000.

Staffordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis is inviting groups from Cannock and Rugeley and Burntwood and Lichfield to bid for a share of the £500,000 grant total.

The money has been made available through the commissioner's People Power Fund as part of his commitment to local communities.

Two rounds of funding will be held, with the first opening on April 1 and closing on April 14. The second round will take place in September.

Mr Ellis is keen to support locally-driven community safety iniatives, from Good Neighbour Schemes, the introduction of a local club or activity for young people, through to the installation of security measures at a local community venue.

He said: "I have significantly increased the funding that local areashave to make their communities safer.

"The Commissioner's People Power Fund puts half a million pounds back into local communities and is easy and simple to apply for. It's about local ideas to sort out local issues like anti-social behaviour. If you've got a good idea, the People Power Fund may be able to help you achieve it."

Animated

People Power applications need to be sponsored by the group's local Neighbourhood Police Officer or Police Community Support Officer.

More details, including application forms and an animated video about the fund, are available at www.staffordshire-pcc.gov.uk/fund. The People Power Fund is one part of £2.5 million of Commissioner's Community Funding for 2014/15.

The Commissioner's Locality Deal Fund has allocated money to local areas through working in partnership with local councils, while the Commissioner's Proceeds of Crime Fund, made up of money seized from criminals, is seeing 100 per cent of funding received by Staffordshire Police going back into local communities, through grants of between £3,000 and £15,000.

School in special measures turns its fortunes around

A ONCE-struggling primary school has transformed its fortunes. After 20 months in special measures, St Peter's Primary has leaped up the ratings to be given a 'good' grading.

The turnaround by the school in Reservoir Road, Hednesford, was confirmed by inspectors following a monitoring visit by Ofsted in February.

By Marion Brennan

Headteacher Samantha Price pledged to continue the improvements with the aim of becoming an 'outstanding' school.

In its report, Ofsted said that St Peter's 'has made impressive improvement on its journey through special measures' and was now providing a curriculum that was 'thoughtful and stimulating.'

Behaviour

The school was placed in special measures in May 2012, just weeks after Miss Price took over as head, with the school being deemed 'inadequate' in all four inspection categories – achievement, quality of teaching, behaviour and safety, and leadership and management.

Now all four have been classified as at least 'good' under the new Ofsted framework.

Inspectors said improvements in attainment were 'significantly stronger' than all schools nationally in 2013. The quality of teaching throughout the school was praised, while the report also acknowledged the strong team of teaching assistants who support lessons well.

The behaviour of pupils was said to be good, with attitudes to learning being noticeably sharper than in previous years.

Leadership and management, heavily criticised in the May 2012 report, was given praise this time around.

Inspectors said: "The headteacher has brought an organised, thoughtful and disciplined approach to management."

The recent appointment of a new deputy headteacher and a complete senior leadership team was made with the aim of attaining an 'outstanding' categorisation next time around.

Miss Price said: "We will not become complacent and will continue to work towards achieving our collective ambitions to be an outstanding primary school."

Tracy to clean up with new franchise

A WOMAN made redundant from the only job she had known looks set to clean up after setting up her own business.

Tracy Roberts was devastated after losing her job and failed to find new employment despite more than 80 applications.

The 38-year-old, who has a four-year-old son Freddie, thought the future looked bleak, but has now set up her own cleaning franchise. She employs four women and has already taken 50 bookings since starting three weeks ago.

Mrs Roberts – whose call centre worker husband Phil is blind – was made redundant as manager at Thomas Cook in Brownhills after 12 years last August.

She said: "I was devastated. It was all I had ever known - I did a training scheme when I left school and had worked in travel agents ever since."

After months of searching, she discovered a website promoting franchising.

Within days she had signed up with the firm Bright and Beautiful and her staff are now cleaning homes across Cannock, Rugeley, Walsall and Sutton Coldfield.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THIS is not only the quote of the week but possibly of the century. The stand-in prime minister of Ukraine, Arseniy Yatsenyuk tells his people: "We are on the brink of a disaster and this is the government of political suiciders! So welcome to hell." Now, that's what I call an election promise.

MEN and women are not always interested in the same things. Most football fans are male. A friend who attended an evening with "Psychic Sally" Morgan reports only a handful of blokes in a theatre packed with women. If the sexes have different leisure interests, why should women have the same career interests as men, especially when the career in question is notoriously laddish and aggressive? There are very few female stand-up comedians, yet the BBC has announced an end to all-male comedy panel shows. Dara O Briain, host of Mock the Week (BBC2) warns that female panellists may come to be regarded as "the token woman." Just like politics.

A FRIEND reports that not all visitors are impressed with Birmingham's new £200 million library. As he climbed the stark staircase with its white walls and strip lighting, he heard one of a group of lads complain: "This is boring, innit? It's like being back in prison."

WHAT makes a middle-aged father of four children truly happy? Time with the kids? A relaxing stroll with his wife? Seeing the new baby take its first step? Nah. Piers Morgan declared in a column two weeks ago: "I'm never happier than when bombing down Sunset Boulevard from my Beverly Hills home in my Aston Martin and Prada shades." This, from a man of 48. Morgan plumbs extraordinary depths of shallowness. His weekly dispatches from LA are an endless list of celebrities he's met, swanky restaurants he's dined in and beautiful women he has allegedly charmed. Now it's falling apart. His chat show with CNN is to be axed amid dismal ratings. For a man who adores being among the rich and famous, the future looks dull. I never thought I'd write this but I feel sorry for Piers Morgan.

OUR new gravel drive, laid only a few days ago, has been turned into a lunar landscape of craters by badgers digging for grubs. The badgers moved into the nearest wood at about the time we moved into Chateau Rhodes, 30 years ago this summer. As the badgers have prospered, the crunchy, delicious hedgehogs have vanished.

I NEVER thought I'd get nostalgic for the 1980s but a rare showing at the weekend of the John Cleese comedy Clockwise (ITV3) took us back to 1986 and reminded us how much life has changed, sometimes for the worse. Back then we had some truly awful cars (remember the Austin 1100?) but glorious open roads. We had disgusting, vandalised phone boxes but everybody was much slimmer. I interviewed Cleese at the launch of Clockwise. All went well until I mentioned Monty Python's Life of Brian. "Ah, the cleverest thing we ever did," beamed Cleese. To the dismay of the PR people, we spent the rest of the interview chatting about Life of Brian, not Clockwise.

CLOCKWISE did produce one terrific quote. It comes as Cleese's character, the headmaster Brian Stimpson, realises all is not quite lost in his desperate attempt to reach a conference in Norwich. Slumped at the side of the road he tells his young travelling companion: "It's not the despair, Laura. I can take the despair. It's the hope I can't stand." We all know that feeling.

I REFERRED a few days ago to the process of sorting out the rights to oil and gas before Scotland votes on independence. A reader suggests they are leaving it to the last minute and hoping for the best, in the belief that it'll be oil rights on the night.

Jobs boost as pub in makeover

A RUGELEY pub will reopen next month following a major transformation – with 25 jobs created. The Horns at Slitting Mill closed on February 24 for the £300,000 transformation.

The cash injection has been made by new leaseholders Steve Barnes and Marie Bell in partnership with owners Punch Taverns. Licensee Marie, who also runs another pub in Cheshire, said: "We could see so much potential in this village pub.

"Our main menu will be a backbone of British food, homemade, fresh and locally-sourced dishes as well as chef specials from a mosaic of cultures. Similarly, we will be expanding the drinks range."

Work is expected to last five weeks, with plans to open early April. Punch Taverns' Partnership Development Manager Stuart Plant said: "We essentially want to reposition the Horns as one of the leading pubs that can provide great drinks and quality dining."

Jobs will be created in all areas and the pub is currently recruiting for a head chef, general manager and front of house staff. Send a CV to admin@thehornsinn.com

Drunken pair jailed over violent attack

TWO drunken clubbers who attacked two other men at a cashpoint after a night out drinking in Cannock have been jailed.

One of the victims, Mitchell Cameron, was knocked unconscious and spent two days in hospital with a fractured skull, Stafford crown court heard.

The attackers, Ashley Southall and Sean Murphy, then turned on Mr Cameron's friend, Daniel Hobson and punched him.

by Adam Burling

The incident was filmed by CCTV cameras and the footage shown to the court.

Southall, aged 21, of Great Charles Street, Brownhills and Murphy, aged 22, of Castle Street, Walsall each admitted charges of inflicting grievous bodily harm on Mr Cameron and common assault on Mr Hobson.

Caught

Judge Mark Eades told them: "If you choose to drink too much and you can't hold your liquor and you become violent and you are caught, you must take the consequences.

"Mr Cameron sustained serious injury when his head struck the cash machine - a fractured skull. He spent two days in hospital, has limited sense of taste and no sense of smell - that's the consequence which follows from drink-fuelled violence."

Mr Paul Spratt, prosecuting, said the attacks happened in the early hours of 21 April last year. Both attackers and victims had been out drinking but the defendants set upon the pair at the cashpoint 'for no apparent reason at all'.

Murphy was the first to punch Mr Cameron, whose head struck the frame of the cash machine. His co-accused then joined in. Mr Hobson tried to intervene, but he was also assaulted.

Both attackers ran off, but were arrested a short time later, when Southall told police: "Fair enough, I knocked him out cold", the court heard. Both were both jailed for 16 months.

Mr Oliver Woolhouse, for Southall, said the attacks had not been premeditated, and were 'acts of gross stupidity when young men have had too much to drink and someone thinks they have heard something they don't like'.

Miss Wendy Miller, for Murphy, said since the offence he had stopped drinking and was living a more responsible lifestyle."

Matt's close shave for charity

Matt Lenton is shorn thanks to manager Steph Oliver, and optical assistant Chloe Reece

A TRAINEE optician has had his locks lopped off for a good cause.

Matt Lenton's colleagues at Specsavers in Castle Street, Dudley, had his bouffant removed in front of amused store customers.

The 20-year-old, of Cheslyn Hay, underwent the close shave for the Georgina cancer unit at Russells Hall Hospital in Dudley.

He said: "My hair was quite long. I got it cut quite often because it grows quite fast, but I only have it trimmed. This was a grade one all over."

Matt, who has been training as a dispensing optician at the store for around two years, has managed to raise around £120.

He said: "We always do things for the Georgina Unit, we've been fundraising for them for a while.

"I was nervous beforehand, and there were a few people looking.

Businessman's help for flood-hit residents

Businessman Ranjit Choongh

A BUSINESSMAN has delivered 1,000 sandbags and 10 tons of sand to flood-hit properties.

Jimmy Spices Restaurants head of operations Ranjit Choongh, from Cannock, decided to help those in need after watching homes affected by rising water levels on TV.

He got in contact with Spelthorne Borough Council in Staines-upon-Thames and made a trip to Surrey to deliver the sandbags and sand.

He was helped by Darren Gill, who owns D Gill Building Supplies in Aldridge who gave him a discounted price.

The restaurant spent £1,000 - including £500 raised by staff at the restaurants. Mr Choongh said: "I was watching the news and the headlines were about the floods down south and the terrible storms.

"The main story was that we do not have enough sandbags, some councils are refusing or failing to supply them to local residents and some councils are even charging for them.

Escape

"This is when I thought it would be good if Jimmy Spices, a predominantly Midlands based restaurant chain, could perhaps help by way of a donation. We are very fortunate that we live in the Midlands where we escape the majority of the bad weather and natural disasters," he said.

"Jimmy Spices is also very fortunate to be a successful business and an integral part of the local community and to be in a position to be able to afford to donate towards the efforts down south.

"As we are a very recognisable brand not only in the Midlands but also the UK as a whole I thought any such donation would also be good for general moral of the people.

"Its always good to see some positive news and community spirit in times of such disasters."

Seven-and-a-half year term for knife attacker

A KNIFE attacker who slashed his victim across face in a street attack has been jailed for seven-and-a-half years.

Window cleaner Shane Gittings stabbed Ben Scott without warning after an exchange of words, Stafford crown court heard.

The victim was walking in Cannock with his friend Michael Bolton when Gittings pushed between them, said Mr Mark Rees, prosecuting.

After an exchange of words, the defendant said to Mr Scott 'what's your problem?' He seemed to be fiddling with something in his hand - a lock knife with a three-inch blade.

Gittings took a large swipe with the knife, connecting with the left side of Mr Scott's face and causing a two-centimetre wound that needed stitching.

At the time of the knifing in Pennine Way, on August 17 last year, Gittings was on bail for an assault on his partner, Kay Frith.

Lucky

Gittings, aged 23, of Bevan Lee Road, Cannock, admitted wounding Mr Scott with intent to do grievous bodily harm and assaulting Miss Frith causing actual bodily harm.

Recorder Mr Martin Forde QC told him: "You are extremely lucky not to be facing a charge of murder or manslaughter."

The court heard Gittings had a record of violence, including fracturing a student's jaw for which he was jailed for 16 months in June 2011.

Mr Neil Gerrity, defending, said neither assault was premeditated. He said: "He's assumed the mantle of the head of the household.

"He turned to drink as a way of dealing with pressures and once he started drinking, also took drugs."

Dunelm's new store sets date of launch

A HOME furnishing chain will open a new store on a retail park in Cannock in two weeks' time.

Dunelm is taking over a 20,000sq ft unit that was rebuilt on the plot of the former Focus DIY store at the Linkway Retail Park off the A5. It will open on March 20 with 80 employees.

The park, which is home to McDonald's and Halfords, was the first out-of- town shopping site to be built in Cannock back in 1988.

Chairman of Cannock Chase Council, Councillor Doris Grice, will open the new store.

Dunelm chief executive, Nick Wharton said: "We are always excited about the opening of a new store.

"We are delighted to welcome the chairman of Cannock Chase Council to open our doors.

"We are confident that Cannock will continue to play a big part in the continued success of the company and look forward to introducing local shoppers to our diverse homewares offering."

Single released in memory of Jon

Kate Dalders, with Mark Hillier, organisers Adam Paget and Karen Phipps with DJ Kevin Lowe, at Serenity Beauty Salon

A CHARITY single is to be released in memory of the late Charlatans drummer Jon Brookes.

Hednesford-based Marquis Drive, who were managed by the Burntwood musician, have written Heard on this Day, which will go in sale next month. Proceeds will go to the Jon Brookes Fund.

The song was played for the first time last Sunday when it aired on Minister FM with Shed Seven frontman Rick Witter. It will be released on iTunes on March 22. There will also be a launch party at Woody's Music Bar in Hednesford on the same evening, with free copies of the single being given out.

It comes as organisers of a tribute concert handed over £5,000 to a fund set up in his memory.

Concert

Lifelong friend Adam Paget, together with Karen Phipps, organised an all-day concert at Darlaston All Active club in memory of Mr Brookes, who died last August, aged 44, after battling a brain tumour. Bands including Isolated Atoms, Junk Monkey, The Rimes, and Spectrum took part as well as Streetly singer Connie Talbot.

Mr Paget said: "It costs £250 a day to fund the research into brain tumours so it is vastly important that we support this work. "I lost both my parents to brain cancer so it is something that is extremely close to my heart and compounded by Jon's death."

Baggies fan Mr Brookes had been in the Charlatans since they formed in 1989.

Amazon subject of protests in capital

ONLINE giant Amazon has faced protests at its London office over accusations of mistreatment of workers and tax avoidance.

A new campaign group called Amazon Anonymous organised the demonstration on Friday at the company's Holborn office.

Amazon Anonymous is acting as a hub for anti-Amazon activism.

Emily Kenway, who founded Amazon Anonymous, began a petition in December to make the retailer pay the living wage, which has attracted more than 55,000 signatures.

Some workers at distribution centres like its one in Rugeley are members of the GMB union but it was thought none attended the demonstration.

GMB national organiser Martin Smith said: "At the moment Amazon only offers 'jobs of last resort' to the communities where they build their warehouses.

"GMB is campaigning with local communities, tax justice campaigners and Amazon staff to make sure the company makes its full contribution to rebuilding the UK economy – both by paying wages its staff can live on and by paying its taxes."

School pupils in fundraiser

PUPILS in Norton Canes have raised £400 for charity.

High school students sold cakes, pens and bracelets and held a concert in aid of St Giles Hospice.

The charity was chosen by representatives from the Burntwood Road school's student council.

The money will be used to provide medical and nursing care to people living with cancer and other serious illnesses, as well as offering support for their families and helpers.

More than £1,200 in aid of Syrian children had already been raised from a sponsored silence.

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

HOW depressing that Apprentice runner-up Luisa Zissman has had her Ferrari vandalised. And even more depressing that some idiot on Twitter suggested it was a form of 'karma' for having the effrontery to drive such a vehicle.

Are some people just born with a chip on the shoulder, or does society just turn them that way?

In typically robust fashion, Zissman replied: "I hope when you buy one someday because you've worked hard someone does it to you!"

But the chances of such people ever working hard for anything are about as likely as Helen Flanagan becoming president of Mensa.

Still, I surely can't be the only one who is wondering how a baker who did not even win Lord Sugar's prized investment is now in the Ferrari league.

That is a lot of cupcakes.

DAYBREAK, the ITV breakfast television service which shares its name with the old TV-am early morning news show from the 1980s, is in line for another revamp.

It is now going be renamed, er Good Morning Britain, after another TV-am breakfast show from 30 years ago, and is going to be presented by Susanna Reid, who appears to have been poached from the BBC on the basis that she is good at ballroom dancing.

Talk about back to the 80s. I suppose we should be glad that nobody thought it a good idea to bring back Gyles Brandreth and his garish sweaters, but it does highlight a lack of creativity and original thinking. And if they really do think that 1983 represented some golden era in breakfast broadcasting, there is one crucial ingredient they have overlooked.

Let's have Roland Rat doing the paper reviews. Now that would have people tuning in.

NEWCASTLE United manager Alan Pardew is in hot water after going head-to-head with Hull City midfielder David Meyler.

His touchline contretemps has landed him with a £100,000 fine. Or a weekend, as Wayne Rooney would call it.

Personally, I think he has been a bit hard done by. After all, a spot of head-to-head contact is usually seen as a gesture of affection up in horse-fighter land.

And I'm sure he was really only offering a coaching lesson in ball control.

Cannock Town under-12s line up for a recent game

Beautiful game is labour of love

For many people, football is more than a way of life, it's a 24/7 commitment as LEWIS DEAKIN reports

FOOTBALL is an obsession for most people up and down the country.

That is certainly the case for one Cannock couple who are heavily involved in leading junior club Cannock Town.

Bev and Mark Atherton revealed they joined the club to give their son Ryan a start in the game.

Bev said: "Chris Dorrington the lady who runs the club told me 'we could do with another under-12s team'. I then said my husband would love to do that – so I volunteered him and that's where our involvement began."

Her husband said Ryan's interest in football had peaked after the 2006 World Cup. He said: "We joined Cannock Town for Ryan. He had just watched the 2006 World Cup and wanted to get involved in football."

Bliss

However, both admitted their four years at Cannock Town hasn't been full of complete marital bliss,with their arguments usually revolving around her husband's management of their son. Bev insists she just wants her husband to treat Ryan like anyone else in the team.

She said: "I've always said to Mark, don't say or do anything to Ryan that you wouldn't do with the others. You need to treat our son the same as anyone else in the side."

Ryan, who plays right-back, admits playing under his father can be stressful. But he is adamant he wouldn't trade playing under his dad for anything else.

He said: "I find a lot of pressure is put upon on me. But if there was a choice of being coached by Roberto Mancini or my dad – I'd chose my dad."

Beverley and Mark Atherton, who devote most of their time to Cannock Town

A typical week in the Atherton household normally centres around football, from the under-12s, watching games on TV or making plans for the next match.

Bev said: "Football does take over. People don't realise – they think it is just training on a Wednesday night and a match day on a Sunday. It's actually a 24/7 commitment.

"We might get a manager from another team call up saying they have a problem. In my house we even talk about football on the phone."

However, both insist that after 23 years of marriage they are a perfect partnership out on the football field. Mark said his wife could step in and simplify anything that gets lost in translation to the players.

"I will explain something to them in terms I probably understand. But the kids' will look blank, so Bev will step in and tell them in simple terms.

"What I try to do is to encourage them. I am a big believer in talking to children on their level. I never shout at them.

"There is nothing worse than seeing a child being pressured by their parents during a game. There is too much pressure put onto them."

Both believe the family atmosphere at the club is why it has survived since it was launched back in 1987.

Mark said: "Cannock Town is full of nice people. All of the managers keep in touch. I go and support them, and they obviously come and support us if we need any coaches."

He added development officer Chris Dorrington was the "heart and soul" of the football club.

A lack of support from the authorities makes it a yearly struggle for Cannock Town to survive and the couple both argue that Cannock Chase District Council could do more to support the grassroots game.

Mr Atherton, said: "You shouldn't have to pay for school pitches. You shouldn't have to pay for park pitches. It should be covered by our council tax. You need to encourage children to exercise but we need help from the authorities.

Insists

"It's not just the pitches you have to pay for – it's everything around it to set a team up. You can't just turn up on a Sunday, and say 'we are here now'. It all has to be paid for."

Mark himself is a Level One FA qualified coach, his wife insists she wants to become a goalkeeping coach, but felt the fear of male bigotry was currently stopping her from completing a level one course.

She said: "I have thought about becoming a qualified goalkeeping coach. It is just plucking up the courage."

Ryan meanwhile has set his sights on becoming a professional footballer and the Liverpool fan insists he will continue to give 110 per cent for his team. His dad's ambition is to see how his group of youngsters develop over the next five years. "Winning doesn't come into that plan. I just want to see how well we can play up to under-17s," he said.

For more information about Cannock Town boys under-12s, contact Bev on 07834455118.

Former West Bromwich Albion chairman Mr Millichip said he was appalled by the behaviour of the fans which left 15 people needing hospital treatment, two of them seriously ill.

TONY Benn was back in Parliament less than a year after losing his Bristol seat. The former cabinet minister won a by-election in Chesterfield. West, aged 52, was charged with three murders.

Marathon man pogos where no one else has

A PENKRIDGE man hopes to bounce into the history books by completing a marathon on a pogo stick.

Jack Sexty, a 24-year-old Masters student, hopes to raise £2,000 for Alzheimer's Research UK. He will hop to it for the Manchester Marathon on April 6.

If he goes the distance, Jack will become the first – and fastest – person to complete a marathon on a pogo. He wants to complete the race in under 12 hours and also hopes to land the Guinness World Record for the farthest distance pogoed in 24 hours. He will be allowed a break of up to five minutes for each hour bounced and has 30 seconds to get back on his stick if he falls off.

Jack Sexty of Penkridge is pogoing the Manchester Marathon

Route

A camera crew will film every leap for record verification purposes and volunteers will be on hand with drinks, snacks and spare equipment. He will start his challenge from the back of the 10,000-strong field and expects to have completed half the 26.2-mile distance when race officials reopen the route to traffic.

The current record is held by American James Roumeliotis, who covered 23.22 miles in 14hours and 32 minutes in 2011.

Jack, a keen runner and triathlete who studies journalism at Staffordshire University, said: "When I was 13 I pogoed to school in a vain attempt to redeem myself for getting into lots of trouble. Ten years on, it came up in conversation and I was curious to know if there was a record for the farthest distance bounced.

"It turns out there is a whole database of pogo-related records. I will be fundraising for both Alzheimer's Research UK and Royal Manchester Children's Hospital.

"A close relative battling Alzheimer's disease so Alzheimer's Research UK is a charity which resonates with me and my family.

"I've managed seven miles in 2hrs 5mins. It's going to be an extremely physical challenge but I'm determined to give it my best shot." Jodie Vaughan, community fundraising manager at Alzheimer's Research UK, said: "We wish Jack all the luck in the world."

Library is a vital hub for community

THE county council is holding consultations to decide whether or not to make cuts to our libraries, youth clubs and day care centres.

Don't be fooled by these "consultations" – I believe the council intends to "plug a hole" in their future finances by cutting these much needed services. They are about cutbacks rather than, as they would have us believe, making the services better.

I am particularly concerned about the future of Heath Hayes Library. This is a vital hub for the community, used and loved by local people with many organisations using the facilities.

Yes, we live in a technological age - but not everyone can afford a computer or even books!.

To me this is yet another example of the most vulnerable in our community being targeted.

Start acting on behalf of this country

WHEN will this government start acting on behalf of the people, whom they are supposed to represent, instead of constantly worrying, about what the EU and others will say?

As I remember it, we joined the Common Market in order to be part of an integrated trade organisation (the clue is in the name!), not a federal state run from Brussels, dominated by France and Germany.

As a result, we have lost control over our own destiny and the power to self-govern and the attempt to blackmail us into voting Tory at the next General Election by way of promising an EU referendum, after it has all but faded into oblivion and is unlikely to materialise at all whatever Cameron says!

Politics and politicians have lost their credibility both here in Britain and further afield which is a cause for concern and like many other things in life today winning at any/all cost is all that matters while duty, integrity and honesty fade into obscurity leaving democracy in this country in grave danger.

Because of this, I fear, for the future of our children and grandchildren.

Carry on the good work with theatre

LOCAL authorities at the moment are 'balancing the books' and at the same time trying to maintain public services. I know it is difficult but would like to ask Rugeley Town Council to look at the case of the Rugeley Rose Theatre/Community Centre and allow it to continue as it is at present.

The Rugeley Rose has had a very chequered history, being closed more often than open. But now it is something to be proud of. To their credit and the public benefit the present staff have transformed it beyond recognition.

They are hard-working and dedicated to making it a first class venue. It is also good not to have to travel to neighbouring towns for shows, pantos, etc.

Not many towns the size of Rugeley can boast a theatre. We all know what will happen if the running of the Rugeley Rose is put out to tender. Please leave well alone and let us carry on enjoying what we have and allow the organisation that use it to carry on with their good work.

Saddened at decision

THE purpose of this letter is to say how sorry I am to learn that Aidan Burley, MP for Cannock Chase, will be standing down at the next General Election.

As MP for Cannock Chase, I believe Mr Burley has done some marvellous work especially in relation to the future of Cannock Hospital among other matters.

Disgusted over signal box move

CAN I express my absolute disgust and astonishment that councillors felt it in the best interests of the residents of Hednesford to spend £30,000 on a dusty old signal box – plus however much it is going to cost to renovate it?

When were the residents themselves consulted on how best to splash this unknown amount of cash? At this time when leisure facilities are sparse or too costly to use, I would have thought this money would have been put to better use, maintaining football pitches or updating the park to encourage use from all ages.

I feel that if the council is going to insist on throwing around ill-gotten money from selling off land that the majority of residents disagreed with sellingthen the least they could do is ask before they make such ridiculous and wasteful purchases.

No small beer, it's just disrespectful

SO P Cole of Cheslyn Hay (Chronicle letters, February 13), states what Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley did was small beer.

Try telling that to the millions of families who lost loved ones in the Second World War and who fought against the evil regime that uniform stood for, then to belittle their lives by parading about in one of the same mock up uniforms just for a prank at a stag night.

And what about the times the MP stands in front of a cenotaph to lay his wreath. Is that just a mock gesture?

That's not small beer, P Cole, it's downright disrespectful.

MP's announcement is a test of character

AIDAN Burley's announcement that he is standing down at the next election will be a test of character for our Conservative MP and indeed the value of electing any Conservative candidate.

Will our sitting MP continue to do the job we pay him for until the end of his term of office? Will his alleged enthusiasm and commitment continue undiminished?

Or, now that his personal ambitions are curtailed, will we find that action on behalf of his constituents is reduced and the backlog of answers to letters from his constituents will mount up even more?

Taking the plunge as 'Best Loved' business

Steve Mallows, of bestofcannock, presents the certificates to Mark Turner and the SCUBA pursuits team

CHASE residents have dived in to nominate a Cannock business as the 'Most Loved'.

SCUBApursuits, which has been training Scuba Divers and providing equipment across the country for 19 years, earned itself 223 reviews as part of the Local & Loved Awards.

Steve Mallows of the bestofcannock, urged customers to nominate Chase firms for the national awards, with the overall winner earning the title of Most Loved Business in the UK.

For 14 days leading up to Valentine's Day consumers had the chance to review their favourite local businesses, one which had raised the profile of their local community. Thousands of reviews were added, with SCUBApursuitsvoted as the "Most Loved" business in Cannock.

Category

SCUBApursuits was also named the Number One "Most Loved" Specialist Sports Store in the UK and the 89th "Most Loved" business overall anywhere in the UK.

Several of the Most Loved Businesses in their category came from Cannock, namely Simply Elegant Interiors; The Drive Cleaners Ltd; Aerial Force and Mailcoms Franking Machine Services and Supplies.

Mr Mallows said: "It's been so exciting to see such a huge number of people voting in the Local & Loved campaign."

Mark Turner of SCUBApursuits said: "Having bagged the "Most Loved" awards is amazing and so rewarding and a real honour to see how much our customers value what we do.

"It is great to see people coming out to support local businesses in general, especially during the current economic climate."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

School top of class with national first aid award

A CHESLYN Hay school has gone to the top of class after gaining the St John Ambulance Schools Mark Award.

Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High scooped the national award, which is only given to schools that show a significant commitment to the safety and health of their pupils, workforce and community.

The school, which has more than 1,300 students on roll, is only the third school in Staffordshire to be given the accolade and there are only 31 schools across the West Midlands region which hold the title.

It places a big emphasis on learning first aid with wellbeing days held during Years 7, 8 and 9 all featuring some first aid training.

It also trains Year 11 and 12 students as part of the curriculum as well holding a young first aider award to recognise those who have achieved or carried out a high level of life-saving skills.

Staff at the Saredon Road school, are also trained in first aid through St John Ambulance.

Lynne Podmore, Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High School's head of personal wellbeing department, said staff and students were delighted to receive the award.

Learning

She said: "We are very proud to have gained the St John Ambulance Schools Mark Award. We believe that learning first aid is an important part of the students all round education. They learn real life skills that are invaluable and can save a life."

Jo Huck, St John Ambulance schools training co-ordinator for the West Midlands, said: "It is absolutely fantastic that Cheslyn Hay shows such commitment to its students, staff and local community by training so many people in first aid.

"First aid training teaches pupils to care for others, and other skills like communication as well as equipping them with the skills to be the difference between a life lost and a life saved."

Last year, more than 10,500 young people in the West Midlands were trained through schools and the charity has a dedicated website offering schools the resources to help increase the number of young people learning first aid.

For more information about the work of St John Ambulance in schools, call 0121 237 3873 or email west-mids-training@sja.org.uk. For more information and resources, visit www.teachthedifference.org.uk

Historic portrait in frame at auction

William Lacey, of Cuttlestones, with the oil painting of Charles II, which is going under the hammer

AN historic oil painting of Charles II is expected to fetch thousands of pounds when it goes up for auction.

The piece, produced by the studio of Sir Peter Lely in the 1600s, depicts the King wearing the blue sash of the garter and armour breastplate over an ochre doublet. He is holding a baton in his left hand.

It is expected to achieve in the region of £3,000 to £5,000 when it goes under the hammer at the Cuttlestones auction house in Penkridge next Thursday, March 14. Staffordshire is associated with Charles II's dramatic exile following his defeat by Cromwellian forces at the Battle of Worcester in 1651.

The King and his party made for the Catholic stronghold of Shropshire via the Staffordshire countryside.

Legend

They sought refuge in the homes of loyal Catholic nobles on their way and spawned the legend of the Royal Oak at Boscobel House in Bishops Wood in which Charles allegedly hid while staying at the nearby White Ladies Priory. From the mid 1980s, the portrait hung at Black Ladies Priory in Kiddemore Green before the seller moved to Brewood.

William Lacey, Cuttlestones picture expert, said: "This is a fine contemporary portrait of a king who ruled during one of the most dramatic periods in British history.

"As the court's dominant portrait painter, Sir Peter Lely was commissioned by the King to produce portraits as gifts for nobles across the country loyal to his cause."

Bowlers to get spring in step again

CANNOCK WI

PRESIDENT Chris Pace wished February birthday ladies Eileen Smith, Audrey Eley, Diana Malpass and Joan Brazier a very happy birthday.

Del's bowling group are looking forward to restarting in the spring and Joyce Guillaume is continuing her card craft mornings.

Stella's cookery group all enjoyed ostrich steaks and Trich's recipe for pear and chocolate pudding. The next cookery class is on March 17.

The games group meets on the last two Thursdays in the month from 2-4pm.

Jan Anderson gave an hilarious report of the holiday she and three friends spent in Eygpt, from riding a camel to attempting to smoke from the big pipes.

The morning's speaker Helen Bradin, who practises in Walsall, then began her talk on A Day in The Life of A Solicitor.

Eileen Smith gave the vote of thanks for a very interesting and informative topic. Del Johnson won the prize for crochet mat.

Best wishes go to president Chris for a very happy forthcoming three-week tour of South Africa.

The speaker on March 13 is Glynnis Gayton on the topic of 'Our Daily Bread'. The competition is for a decorated egg.

The club meets in St Luke's church hall at 10.30am on the second Thursday in the month. Visitors are welcome.

Lions lend support to students in Peru trip

Rugeley Lions president Tim Burgin with the three expedition students

RUGELEY LIONS CLUB

THREE intrepid young students from Fair Oak Academy, Rugeley, are embarking on the adventure of a lifetime by going on a working holiday to Peru in 2015.

To help fund this month-long expedition the upper school girls asked Rugeley Lions Club for some financial support and in return offered to help the Lions with their fundraising and service activities.

Their camp in Peru will encompass the high Andes, the Pacific coast and the desert and allows access to many of the continent's historical sites and adventures.

While there the girls will help rural communities improve their living standards and teach English to children.

If any other individual or organisation would like to offer further sponsorship, contact Rugeley Lions on 08458332904.

First meeting a practical one

FLOWER CLUB

THE Norton Canes Flower Club meeting on February 19 was the first of 2014 and it was opened by Jose who welcomed everyone.

Jose then introduced Christine Flood who led the practical evening.

Christine gave a demonstration of designs using boxes and cards and then followed a workshop for members to produce their own arrangements using either a card or a box. The results were varied and lovely.

Everyone had something worthwhile from their enjoyable evening and also expanded their knowledge.

The next meeting is on Wednesday March 19 when Paul Tyler will be talking about fondant icing figurines.

Norton Canes Flower Club meets at the Trinity Methodist Chapel Norton Canes and new members and visitors are most welcome.

Crews pipe up with hose donation

Primate keeper Vicky Kirkman, Rob Barber, of Staffs Fire & Rescue Service and Haja the lemur

CREWS have donated redundant fire hoses to lemurs at South Staffordshire College's Animal Zone. The 50 flat hosepipes will be used to make swings and climbing frames for the animals.

Animal Centre manager David Riley invited Rob Barber, director of response at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service, to visit the Animal Zone at the Rodbaston Campus. He received a certificate of adoption from senior primate keeper Vicky Kirkman for three of the college's ruffed lemurs, Drucilla, Haja and Hery.

Mr Barber said: "The hoses would otherwise have been waste material but will be used as swings and perches."

Mr Riley said: "The hosepipes will provide the animals with a chance to have fun whilst getting plenty of exercise."

Action over boy racers

A CRACKDOWN has been launched on boy racers, with more than 100 being moved on by police.

Young drivers have been congregating on car parks on Sunday evenings and driving at excessive speeds on some roads in the Lichfield area.

Residents told police they have been disturbed by the noise and have said they are concerned by the speed of the some of the drivers. Hotspots include Birmingham Road, Fradley Industrial Estate and Wall Island, with the Chasetown and Rugeley bypasses also proving popular locations.

Members of the Road Policing Team moved on around 100 drivers from various locations in recent weeks.

One vehicle was seized for having no insurance and five were dealt with for traffic offences such as going through red lights, having illegal registration plates and defective tyres and lights. A police spokesman said: "We will continue to patrol these areas and motorists thinking of attending to drive in an anti-social manner are warned to stay away."

Last year the High Court passed an injunction banning street racing in Cannock. It prohibits street racing along The Orbital, Eastern Way, Watling Street, Lichfield Road, Walsall Road and Avon Road.

Six metal signs have now been installed at a cost of £4,000 at these key locations.

Stage is set for favourite numbers

Backstreet Theatre members are performing some of their favourite musical numbers

A THEATRE company has selected some of its favourite numbers for a one-off musical show next weekend.

The Backstreet theatre group is performing songs from West End smashes Les Miserables, The Lion King, Wicked in a 'greatest hits' selection at the Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock, on Saturday (March 15).

"We are really looking forward to this one." said chairman Jo Goulding, "It's like our own little version of The Voice! Only in true Backstreet style we have added some high energy dance numbers and a fantastic live band."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets are £8. Call 07970 968160 or visit www.positickets.co.uk

Backstreet's next big musical, Our House, takes place at the Church Street theatre from September 4- 6.

Apprentice numbers rise

THE number of apprenticeships across Staffordshire is increasing, new figures reveal.

Last year, 13,335 apprenticeships started across the Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Local Enterprise Partnership area, compared with 12,491 the year before.

It comes as Staffordshire County Council expands its apprenticeship scheme, with 530 having been taken on since 2009.

Ron Dougan, chairman of the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Local Enterprise Partnership said: "Apprenticeships are a vital part of the LEP's strategy to bring growth and prosperity to Staffordshire.

"They give employers the opportunity to grow their own talented and skilled workforce with many already seeing benefits to their businesses."

Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills said: "Our apprenticeship programme is among the best in the country and plays a key role in helping us develop a skilled workforce for the future.

"We are very proud of our young apprentices and our apprenticeship programme

"With our apprenticeship programme, our apprentices get as much support as they need to learn, progress and ultimately find their way to a fulfilling career."

Graham and Helen Tudor in pantomime

The couple on their wedding day

Dream wedding no act for panto pair

EVERYONE dreams of a fairytale wedding.

And Graham and Helen Tudor got to have one over and over – before they tied the knot for real.

The couple were married twice a day every day for six weeks when they took the lead roles in pantomime at the Plymouth Theatre Royal alongside the Chuckle Brothers.

Five years later they wed for real and are still living happily ever after with two-year-old daughter Gracie.

Graham, of Chadsmoor, Cannock, first met Helen, 31, who played Abbey Davies in Hollyoaks, in 2005 as they prepared for Jack and the Beanstalk. They starred as Jack and Princess Apricot and appeared on stage with Barry and Paul Chuckle.

"We quickly became very fond of each other and became something at the time of an undisclosed item," said former Blake High School pupil Graham, now aged 36.

Both have strong performing backgrounds and now run a series of drama schools and a talent agency which even cover Graham's hometown.

They currently have a drama school operating at Littleton Green Community School, Huntington on Tuesdays and are in talks to expand to other schools, including Erasmus Darwin Academy in Burntwood.

In addition, the couple are collaborating with The Academy of Live and Recorded Arts which is run by Adrian Hall, the original Jeremy Potts in the film Chitty Chitty Bang Bang.

And alongside Hednesford-based Tower Players playwright Peter Sidgwick, Mr Tudor has written a play based on the Rugeley Poisoner William Palmer.

MP's get tough call on contraband in jail

AN MP has urged the Ministry of Justice to get tougher on prisoners found with contraband goods in jail.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson raised the question in Parliament as to whether the Ministry Justice would look at having a mandatory increase in sentence for prisoners who are found with items such as drugs and mobile phones in their cells.

He said: "I want to see prisoners properly penalised if they are caught with contraband inside jails.

"I am amazed at how much prohibited material gets into prison," Mr Williamson added.

"The only way to deter people from doing this is by implementing stringent mandatory sentences for those who flout the rules."

A report on HMP Oakwood, published in August last year, showed contraband such as drugs and mobile phones had been discovered.

The Scottish Prison Service is currently trialling mobile phone signal blocking technology, which should enable prison authorities to detect and prevent prisoners' use of contraband phones.

Guide dogs inspire marathon challenge

A FATHER-of-two is to run the London Marathon to honour the heroic work done by Guide Dogs for the Blind to help his mother.

Neil Oakes has never run a marathon before – but was inspired to tackle the 26-mile course on April 13 in aid of the charity.

His mother Marion has had a guide dog for the last 18 years since being registered blind after a series of conditions caused her eyesight to deteriorate.

Bricklayer Mr Oakes, aged 44, of Heath Hayes, admits the marathon will be a 'huge challenge' but he says he is determined to raise as much cash as possible.

He is taking part in a half marathon in Anglesey this week and has already managed to run 16 miles at a time. Mr Oakes, who was born in Lewisham and moved to the Midlands aged four, said: "I've always been into sport but I have never done a marathon before.

"The dog provides so much companionship and love for my mom and I wanted to do something to support a great charity," he added.

Artist signed up for mine statue project

AN artist has been commissioned to produce a monument in Rugeley to commemorate miners who were killed underground.

Andy De Comyn, who also produced the 'Shot at Dawn memorial' at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas, has been asked by Cannock Chase Council to carry out the work on the four sculpted figures.

The structure will be located on the Globe Island and will honour around 80 pitmen who lost their lives while working at Brereton and Lea Hall Collieries.

It will consist of four nine foot high sculptures made from concrete resin weighing between 1,500kg and 2,000kg, of miners in various positions. It will take at least 18 months to create the figures at a cost of £55,000.

A planned Globe Island design

Important

Cannock Chase Councillor Diane Todd, town centre regeneration leader, said: "The scheme is a public sculpture to commemorate approximately 80 miners who lost their lives down the pits.

"This memorial is an important part of Rugeley's heritage and I am looking forward to seeing the final results."

Funding was requested from the authority by Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries Memorial Society who presented the mining monument proposals at a meeting of the town centre regeneration committee back in December 2011.

Recommendations for funding were submitted to the council's ruling cabinet in January 2012 for consideration and £68,000 was approved in June 2012 as part of the town centre improvement fund. A planning application was then submitted by the society and was approved by the planning control committee last August.

The Memorial Society undertook an extensive consultation during 2012 with the public response strongly in favour of the memorial and the Globe Island as its location. The group has agreed to insure the structures against damage on an ongoing basis.

Mr De Comyn said: "It is an honour and a privilege to be able to design and build a sculpture that commemorates such a fundamental part of Rugeley's heritage."

Athlete on track to give students tips

Former world champion sprinter Daniel Caines in action during his visit to Fair Oak Academy in Rugeley

A FORMER athletics world champion was right on track when he dropped in at a Cannock school.

Daniel Caines, world 400m indoor champ in 2001, visited Fair Oak Academy in Rugeley as part of the Sky Living Sports initiative to pass on both sports and lifestyle tips to the group of 12 Year 8 and 9 students. Now retired, he works as an ambassador for the education scheme and as a TV pundit.

Caines, a law graduate, told them about his sports career and how he finally struck gold at the Lisbon games in the year some of the girls were born.

"I've come here as part of a specific programme looking to help girls to get into fitness," he said. "I tell them that there are six key steps to being successful in whatever they choose to do.

"But whatever they do, they can do it well and to the best of their ability," he added.

Pupil Katie Hodson, aged 13, of Brereton, said: "It was really good to meet someone famous and to learn from his experiences both in sports and about life in general."

PE teacher and learning leader Claire Forsythe said: "This is a pilot scheme and if it goes well, we'll look at doing something similar with the boys."

Five new classrooms on agenda at school

FIVE new nursery classrooms and a library at a private school in Cannock were this week set to be approved by councillors.

The plans will see temporary infant classrooms at Chase Grammar School, in Convent Close, off St John's Road, be demolished. Under the proposals, they would be replaced with a permanent single storey building with rooms built into the roof space.

By Rob Golledge

Four of the classrooms will be situated on the ground floor along with a library, office and toilets.

In the roof space will be an extra classroom and storeroom. It will be built to match a traditional Victorian design with a clock fixed to the front.

Programme

The application was being heard by planners yesterday (Wednesday) and was being recommended for approval.

A report to the council states: "The school seeks to constantly improve the facilities it offers through a programme of planned maintenance and redevelopment and the application represents an opportunity to provide improved teaching larger classrooms.

"The new southeast teaching block is designed to replace the existing teaching block. The new building will be of permanent construction to replace the temporary building.

"It will be visually attractive and of much lower energy demand, reducing the school's carbon footprint."

In recommending approval, an officers' report states: "Overall, the design is considered acceptable as it would not have any adverse impact upon any surrounding streetscene."

The school, formerly known as Chase Academy has fewer than 300 students and the classes average 15 students. It is a mixed school taking pupils from nursery age to A level.

Balloons released for tragic teenager

HUNDREDS of footballers held a minute's silence and released balloons in memory of a teenager who died in a car crash on her way to school.

Thirteen-year-old Natasha Whale, from Walsall, was killed on Monday, February 24, after the car in which she was a back-seat passenger collided with a coach.

The Adams Tours coach had been carrying pupils from Shelfield Community Academy when it was involved in the crash in Valley Road, Blakenall, which also left Natasha's mother fighting for her life. Keen footballer Natasha had played for for Wyrley Pumas, the female section of Wyrley Juniors FC, and was a member of the Burntwood Phoenix under 14s team.

On Saturday the Staffordshire County Girls Football League held a minute's silence across games involving more than 30 teams to commemorate the life of the former Walsall Academy schoolgirl.

And red and black balloons were released into the sky after her former team Burntwood Phoenix's game at the Burntwood Leisure Centre in Chasetown.

Overwhelmed

Wendy Bryant, girls section co-ordinator for Burntwood Phoenix, said: "She will be dearly missed by all that knew her and her loss has left a gaping hole within her team.

"The club has been overwhelmed with the support shown from other teams in the league.

"Tash's memory will live on within the club and over the next few weeks we will decide on a fitting memorial tribute for her."

County one of top investment areas

MP Jeremy Lefroy has welcomed news that Staffordshire has been ranked one of the UK's top three areas for investment.

Its Local Enterprise Partnership came third out of the UK's 39 LEP areas for attracting new business and supporting business expansion.

Conservative MP Mr Lefroy, who represents Stafford, said: "This is great news for Staffordshire and recognition of the hard work done by our LEP to attract investment to the area.

"That investment will bring jobs and opportunities for people across the Stafford constituency."

A recently published report, called European Cities and Regions of the Future, also ranked Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent among the top 20 regions in Europe in terms of future economic potential.

More than 2,000 new jobs have been created across the county in the last three years through relocation or expansion.

Philip Atkins, Leader of Staffordshire County Council, said: "Our ambitious, forward thinking approach to economic growth and job creation makes Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent one of the best places in the UK to do business.

Economy

"Working with partners, we have clear ambitions to strengthen and grow our economy in the years ahead, to bring more, better paid jobs and increased prosperity to people in Staffordshire.

"This accolade will further inspire the work we are doing," he added.

Andy hot foots it for marathon task

Shane Hussain, of Flames in Penkridge, is sponsoring Andy Marlowe for the London Marathon

A PE teacher is tackling the London Marathon in April – inspired by the children at his school.

It will be the fourth time Andrew Marlowe, an ex-professional footballer on the books of Nottingham Forest and Tottenham, has taken part in the 26-mile race.

The 40-year-old from Heath Hayes, who teaches at Jane Lane School in Bentley, Walsall, has chosen to raise money for the charity Autism Concern. He said: "I teach at a special school and a lot of the kids have autism.

"I've done the London Marathon three times before. Each time I choose a different charity. Autism Concern is a charity close to my heart."

Mr Marlowe played non-league football before becoming a teacher.

Firm's Prince's Trust boost

A CANNOCK firm is to hand over £100,000 to the Prince's Trust over the next four years.

Briggs Equipment hopes it will help disadvantaged young people find work, education or training.

The Orbital Way firm, which supplies forklift trucks and other material-handling vehicles, is donating £25,000 a year and will also become a patron of the charity.

Richard Close, Briggs Equipment's chief executive officer, said: "We are passionate about making a difference to young people and local communities whilst helping to develop the skills needed in today's marketplace.

"Given our commitment to integrity, empowerment and personal accountability, our values are well-aligned with those of The Prince's Trust and we are delighted that our donation impacts positively on the lives of those young people who need it most."

In its role as a patron Briggs will take part in major projects each year. The initiative for 2014 is Million Makers, a national competition challenging teams of aspiring entrepreneursto create a mini enterprise that will enable them to turn seed funding of £1,500 into a profit of £10,000. The aim is to collectively raise £1m for the charity.

The Briggs Equipment team will be made up of seven of its new sales development executives located around the UK. The final results will be announced in September.

Club remains at the heart of community

A VILLAGE club has been at the heart of the community for a century – now bosses are looking back with pride at the venue's rich history.

By Charlotte Lilley

Heath Hayes Constitutional Club, in Hednesford Road, is entering its 101st year.

During that time, it has helped to nurture the talents of future British champion dancers, has playing a lead role in raising thousands of pounds for charity and hosted bowls tournaments, weddings, birthdays and christenings. It remains firmly at the heart of the community it serves.

Colin Hayward has been a member with his wife Christine for the past 40 years.

Since it first opened in March 1913, it has played host to a number of celebrations while being at the centre of fundraising events and the location for ballroom dancing classes. Its 100th anniversary milestone was marked with a charity sequence dance which raised £1,100 for The Guide Dogs for the Blind Association.

Mr Hayward said: "I have been chairman of the club for 12 years but I have been a member for many years now.

"It was built by the community for the community and it is a lovely place for people to come and socialise and have fun.

"While it was being built, members of Heath Hayes Bowls Club began playing on the green.

"I think it is just as important now as it was back then. From the second it opened for trading, it has done really well.

"There aren't many social clubs that can say they have been open for 100 years like we can, so I am extremely grateful to all the people who use it and support it."

Dance instructor Heather Roberts has been teaching sequence classes there every Thursday for the past 18 years.

She said: "It is a great place to come and teach. I remember when I was first asked to be an instructor here in 1985 and I jumped at the chance. I couldn't have imagined that I would still be here so many years later.

"Over the years we have had five British champions who all started at this very club."

Janet Jennings has been hosting fundraisers at the venue for 30 years, generating more than £100,000 for charities including theAir Ambulance, St Giles Hospice, Walsall Breast Cancer and the British Diabetic Association.

She said: "So many clubs are closing down these days. It's quite an achievement our club has made it to 100 years.

UKIP MEP in pledge over election battle

UKIP deputy leader Paul Nuttall, attends a party meeting, with councillor Linda Whitehouse

UKIP'S deputy leader has said his party will fight 'hell for leather' to win Aidan Burley's seat at the next General Election.

MEP Paul Nuttall said the Tory MP's handling of his involvement in a Nazi-themed stag party had been 'ill judged'. Speaking at a UKIP meeting at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford, Mr Nuttall said: "He shouldn't have done it. He should have just held his hands up from the start and apologised.

"We will be going hell for leather for the seat and doing our best to achieve the best result."

Among the issues raised was the controversial HS2 rail project, described as 'a costly white elephant' and 'a vanity project'. "The sums don't add up," said Mr Nuttall. "And there is only one place in this country HS2 is going to benefit ... It isn't Cannock. It's London."

Mr Nuttall, MEP for the north west of England, was joined by other European election candidates, as well as Councillor Alan Dean, chairman of the Cannock Chase UKIP branch, and councillor Linda Whitehouse.

Councillor Dean, who defected from the Tory party to help form the district branch, said: "We are going to change British politics because we are the people that care."

Tax freeze agreed, but bills rise for neighbours

COUNCIL tax will be frozen in Cannock after bosses gave the go-ahead, while bosses at a neighbouring authority insisted a 1.99 per cent increase was justified.

At a meeting last week, Cannock Chase District Council rubber-stamped a freeze from April. But Lichfield District Council announced it will increase its share of the bill.

Councillors in Cannock say they do not need the extra income from an increase – but Lichfield bosses have blamed a reduction in Government grants for their decision following huge cuts across the country.

By Adam Burling

Costly

By keeping the increase at less than two per cent, Lichfield District Council has avoided a costly referendum asking taxpayers if they would be willing to pay more.

Leader Councillor Mike Wilcox said: "The increase will see the average local home paying around 25p more a month, or £2.96 extra a year, for the services the district council provides – from leisure centres and parks to planning and recycling. We'd prefer not to put council tax up, but we have to be realistic.

"Over the past few years the government has slashed our funding, and by 2019 the grant we normally get each year to help fund local services will end.

"Because of this we need to look at all ways to bring in extra income and reduce our costs in order to balance our books."

Cannock leader George Adamson has admitted the council faces tough years to come. He said: "The council tax freeze is good news for residents in the district in the short term, yet it will be very difficult for the council to continue to deal with the ongoing reduction in Government funding."

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Council chiefs plan major revamp of town centre

BURNTWOOD town centre is in line for a huge revamp including new shops, leisure facilities and public areas.

The area is in line for new developments as part of a masterplan for its future put forward by bosses at Lichfield District Council.

The new shopping centre next to Sankey's Corner would include 200,000 sq ft of shop floor space and a major food store, along with improved pedestrian routes and a town centre bypass.

by Adam Burling

Plans to boost trade in the town centre have been in the pipeline for years but have stalled recently.

They have now been included in a new council document to guide future developments .

Enterprise

Bosses have revealed some £500,000 is also set to be ploughed into the project, including £370,000 from a 'community infrastructure levy' and £170,000 from the local enterprise partnership.

There are also plans for 'a high standard of landscaping and tree planting, incorporating high quality landscaping along pedestrian routes and adjoining car parks, street furniture, lighting and features of public art'.

A final total cost for the development has not been revealed and council chiefs are looking to attract investment. Summerfield ward councillor Steve Norman said: "This is a real priority as we need to change the town centre to make up for the bad planning that has gone on in recent years.

"At the moment the town centre is split into parts and it needs to be brought together as a whole.

"This work is badly needed and although it won't happen overnight there are hopefully signs that it can move forward."

The council's cabinet gave the proposals the nod at a meeting on Tuesday.

A report said: "Physical infrastructure requirements focus on the need to provide a new town centre.

"This includes the need to provide an increased retail and leisure offer and appropriate transport infrastructure to support this growth."

St Anne's warden Terry Smith launches the church roof fundraising appeal

Singers to raise roof for church

A BURNTWOOD church is urging people to donate to help raise £40,000 to replace its roof.

St Anne's in Church Street, last had its roof replaced in the 1980s, but due to wear and tear it is again in need of replacing.

Anita Brooks, Parochial Church Council secretary, said the lead windows also needed repairing and guttering needed to be replaced.

She said: "So far we have managed to raise around £210,000 but we just need this last push to get the final amount.

"People have been so generousand we have managed to secure grants.

"The roof isn't very old but we cannot use the church to its full potential until this work is carried out."

Cardinal Griffin pupils in Cannock will perform at the church to help raise cash on March 21.

Parade of shops has makeover

WORK is under way to give a Burntwood shopping centre a new lease of life.

Building work has begun to improve Ryecroft Shopping Centre.

It will include resurfacing the front car park, patch-repairing the back car park, repairing the forecourt area and upgrading and reconnecting the lighting.

It comes after business owners joined to form the Ryecroft Traders Association to address the parade's run down outside space.

The repairs are being funded by Burntwood Town Council, Burntwood Business Crew, Lichfield District Safer Community Partnership, and Councillor Sue Woodward, through the Staffordshire Local Community Fund.

Traders are also contributing to ongoing maintenance of the shopping centre's public areas.

Night of fun for charities

THE Chicken Shack Boogie Boys and John Wildwood and his band perform in Burntwood on March 22.

The charity night at the Memorial Institute, Rugeley Road, will support town council chairman Ron Bradbury's nominated causes, Burntwood Breast Cancer Care and the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Call 01543 677166 for tickets or e-mail admin1@burntwood-tc.gov.uk

High-speed broadband on the way

RESIDENTS in Burntwood will be among the first to benefit from high-speed broadband.

Staffordshire County Council, working with BT and BDUK, announced that work was under way to bring high-speed broadband to around 4,000 properties from April.

In a £27.87 million programme, more than a million metres of fibre-optic cable will be laid and around 500 new street-side cabinets installed to connect people across the county to the new network.

Councillor Mark Winnington, cabinet member for economy and infrastructure, said: "Our key priority is to bring prosperity and jobs to Staffordshire and superfast broadband is a part of our strategy on achieving this.

"This infrastructure is as important as road or rail."

Site visit to follow talk

MIKE Forbes will address a meeting of Men of Burntwood next week.

The monthly meeting takes place at St Matthews Sports and Social Club on Wednesday, March 12 from 7.30pm.

The topic will be "New Hall Water Mill" to be followed later in the year by an on-site visit. All are welcome to attend.

Call Keith on 01543 685035 for further details.

What will happen under the proposals for Stafford Hospital?

Many people have asked me what the proposals for Stafford Hospital, agreed by the Secretary of State for Health, mean for them when the Mid Staffordshire Trust is dissolved and Stafford Hospital joins the University Hospital of North Staffordshire Trust. At the same time Cannock Chase Hospital joins the Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals Trust.

The agreed proposals represent a major improvement on those put forward a year ago which would have seen Stafford stop handling any acute or emergency cases. But, as they go ahead, I will continue to fight for further improvements, particularly over maternity, paediatric and 24/7 emergency services.

To show that most services will be continuing at Stafford, I am printing the table below which shows (for patients in the Stafford area) where the provision is currently and where it will be in the future. Stafford will continue to be an acute District General Hospital providing most of the services we need.

The information below is from the Trust Special Administrator proposals at consultation (as amended by the consultation results), approved by Monitor and signed off by the Secretary of State for Health. It is not comprehensive but covers most of the major services.

Accident and Emergency (A&E) will remain open 8am - 10pm as now with cases outside those hours going to other hospitals. Under the agreed proposals, all major emergency surgery cases will go to other hospitals 24 hours a day.

Most current services will also continue at Cannock and a similar table for Cannock is available on my website.

In order to ensure that we maintain these services and continue to make the case for further services in the future, it is important that the people of Stafford and the surrounding areas choose to use Stafford and Cannock Chase Hospitals for treatment whenever appropriate and possible.

Trust in leaflet campaign

BOSSES at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust have delivered leaflets to 57,000 homes in its fight over HS2. The leaflets detail the impact the high speed rail link will have on local wildlife, and how they can help the trust to minimise it.

The trust says in total, 27 wildlife sites and will be directly affected as part of the high speed rail plans.

Planning and conservation officer Kate Dewey said: "The trust believes the proposed route for HS2 will do irreparable damage to a number of Staffordshire's precious wild spaces."

Colleges in bid to run HS2 skills academy

NINE Midland colleges are bidding to run a new skills academy to train engineers to work on HS2, it has emerged.

The group wants the new college, the first to be built for 20 years, to be sited alongside a planned HS2 maintenance depot on the former LGV plant in Washwood Heath, Birmingham.

It comes after calls from civic leaders in Staffordshire for the college to be based in Stafford at the site to be vacated by Staffordshire University.

By Rob Golledge

Their bid has been backed by high speed train specialists Alstom who are based in the town.

The rival bid for Birmingham comprises South Staffordshire College, Kidderminster College, Birmingham Metropolitan College, University College, Birmingham South and City College, Birmingham Bournville College, Solihull College, North East Worcestershire College, Burton and South Derbyshire College, and North East Worcestershire College.

Tunnel

Ministers announced plans in January for a dedicated further education college for the high-speed railway.

Other bids to be the location for the new college are expected to come from Manchester, Crewe, and Derby.

Meanwhile, bosses at the Woodland Trust has stepped up their campaign to protect ancient woodlands affected by the proposed route.

A letter has been presented to Number 10 asking for a tunnel extension in the Chilterns to save over 30 per cent of ancient woodland threatened by HS2.

Based on HS2 Ltd figures, 80 acres of ancient woodland will be lost on the London to Birmingham route, which includes Lichfield.

HS2 Ltd engineers have confirmed the tunnel proposal is technically feasible but would be too expensive.

Hilary Allison, Woodland Trust Policy Director, said: "Ancient woodland is a unique and irreplaceable habitat, widely recognised as having national importance and no amount of new planting would ever fully compensate for its loss.

"This tunnel extension is a sensible option and we hope to see Government and HS2 Ltd give it proper consideration."

HS2 Ltd spokesman Ben Ruse said: "HS2 Ltd fully recognises the importance of our ancient woodlands and they have been avoided where possible when planning the route of this much-needed new railway.

"There is also a commitment to plant over two million trees between London and the West Midlands, which means there will be more woodlands when HS2 is complete than there are now."

The Woodland Trust has been urging people to raise concerns over ancient woodland to the Prime Minister.

Boss to reveal way of cutting rail line costs

NEW HS2 boss Sir David Higgins will this month unveil a radical plan to cut costs and speed up the building of HS2.

The former Network Rail chief wants to transform the image of the controversial high speed rail line and believes savings can be made.

It follows the closure of the public consultation last week of the second phase of the £50billion project.

HS2 Ltd has revealed Sir David will release his findings later this month. The company won't be drawn on what raft of measures will be included.

Sir David has also expressed an appetite to see both the northern an southern leg built at the same time to bring forward the opening of the 225mph line.

He said: "We should consider this as one project. Starting in the north would be cheaper. It helps cost."

In compensation, he will set out how savings can be made.

The legislation for the London to Birmingham leg is currently in parliament but looks unlikely to be passed before the General Election.

Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin will later this year confirm the final route for the second phase which is due to pass through Lichfield and a string of Staffordshire villages.

Pick of the Week

The nurses who deliver more than just babies

The midwives will have to deliver some bad news this week – it's the last in the current series. And that will leave over eight million fans wondering exactly what to do with their Sunday evenings.

But just why has this tale of East End London in the days before the contraceptive pill been such a hit, while other, more hyped dramas, struggle to get half as many viewers?

Helen George, who plays the convent's resident blonde bombshell Trixie, has a couple of theories.

"I think it's partly because of the original memoirs that were written by Jennifer Worth. She'd created such beautiful stories and her memoirs were so wonderful, and then Heidi Thomas continued that when she adapted it for the screen, so I think it begins with the writing and the stories. If you've got a good story to tell, people want to listen.

"And then from that, the cast has been really great – it's wonderful that people like Pam Ferris and Miranda Hart wanted to do it.

"And I think it's a period of history that hasn't really been focused on in primetime TV, so there's an interest in that."

There's also an interest in the clothes, which Helen admits she's shares. "We've had an amazing costume designer, and I'm told vintage fashions suit me – it's a period that really accentuates a woman's curves.

"They hold you in all the right places, so it's quite flattering, although it's tough to eat on set sometimes – I'm sewn into my dresses and trousers because they are so tight. I'm thinking 'I can't even sit down properly, so eating pasta probably wasn't a good idea...'"

But while the mix of babies, Fifties frocks and cycling nuns may sound a bit twee, regular viewers will know that the show can also be hard-hitting – and some of those medical scenes aren't for the faint of heart.

Luckily, filming them isn't too much of an ordeal. Helen laughs: "It doesn't bother me, although I'm sure if in real life I was ever faced with one of these situations I'd be passing out on the floor. "Whilst it looks very realistic on the screen, we have this thing where the midwife on set holds a condom over the actress who's pretending to give birth, and she pops it when their waters break. You can't really feel squeamish because it's just a condom full of water!"

So, bear that in mind during any particularly graphic scenes in this episode as Jenny pays a visit to first-time mother Jeanette.

The two women quickly establish a rapport, which is just as well, as Jeanette needs frequent visits – and if that allows Jenny to see more of the mum-to-be's cousin Philip, that's just a perk of the job.

Do we sense another stylish Fifties wedding in the offing, or are we getting a bit ahead of ourselves?

Elsewhere, it looks like Chummy's nursing skills may be needed closer to home, as she discovers Lady Browne has discharged herself from hospital, leaving her daughter in despair.

The mums of Poplar have learned to heed Chummy's advice, so why won't her own mother listen to her?

Jessica Raine, Jenny Agutter and Judy Parfitt also star.

Miranda Hart stars in Call the Midwife, Sunday, BBC1, 8pm

Best of the Rest

Monday
DCI Banks
ITV, 9pm
In the conclusion of a two-parter, and the current series, Alan's colleagues are tracking Tracy's phone records in the hope of getting a lead. While searching for his abducted daughter, Banks pressures Al to lead him to Jaffar, aka 'Jaff', but his request proves fruitless. Eventually Al does offer to help – at a price – and the detective considers breaking all the rules to meet his demands. Meanwhile, Morton is suspended following the result of Cabbot's internal investigation. With her job hanging by a thread, Tracy's life in danger and Banks 'in a bad place' as his relationship with Annie is close to snapping, the DCI is going to have to move heaven and earth to keep his family and colleagues together.

The Michael McIntyre Chat Show
BBC1, 10.35pm
Award-winning Michael McIntyre gives Graham Norton and Alan Carr a run for their money this week as he joins the ranks of comedian/chat show host. Hopefully he'll be able to get some top tips from veteran broadcaster Terry Wogan. Pop star Lily Allen faced the benign wrath of Miriam Margolyes the other week on Graham's Friday night show, so hopefully she'll be a little more animated here while plugging her new single Air Balloon. And Alan Sugar is always good fun on Norton's show, so let's hope McIntyre gets the best from him as well, or perhaps he'll be the one hearing those two fearful words which round off most editions of The Apprentice.

Tuesday
Shetland
BBC1, 9pm
Following its successful debut series last year, Shetland is back for a new run of three two-part stories. Yes, we know TV isn't exactly short of crime dramas, but this one promises to be a cut above the rest, and this time around, the adaptations of best-selling author Ann Cleeves' books will be a little darker and more atmospheric. Douglas Henshall is back as DI Jimmy Perez, and the opening instalment guest stars Scottish stalwart Brian Cox.

Wednesday
Law & Order: UK
ITV, 9pm
Once we get over that Shard-centric intro – the most ubiquitous building in any London-based drama these days – the new run of Dick Wolf's Blighty-based saga grabs the viewer with a car chase involving an Astra pinched from Kentish Town. However, thanks to a shock development, the car being pursued comes to a sudden stop, as does the twentysomething driver's life. A discovery in his boot proves even more shocking: a man in his sixties who may have already been dead when he was put there. New arrival DS Joe Hawkins (Ben Bailey Smith) tries to discover who the deceased was and how he died. Tricky as the deceased has no hands or teeth.

Law & Order: UK, Wednesday, ITV, 9pm

Astronauts: Living in Space
Channel 4, 9pm
This new three-part documentary explores what it is like to live and work outside the Earth's atmosphere for months at a time. The stars of the show are astronauts Rick Mastracchio, Koichi Wakata and Mike Hopkins. They'll be revealing the effects of microgravity on their bodies, and demonstrate how everyday tasks such as eating, sleeping and washing are completed while weightless. We also get a rare insight into the International Space Station; how NASA supports the crews and families during their missions, and how astronauts adjust back to life on Earth. The next part can be seen on Thursday (March 13).

Thursday
Holiday Hit Squad
It Takes a Thief to Catch a Thief
Channel 5, 8pm
If you missed the first instalment of this new series last week, it follows reformed master thief Richard Taylor and policeman Will Davies as they show retailers how to deal with the shoplifters who are pinching their profits. This week, the duo are in Romford to visit a designer clothing store, and find that while managers Amber and Lou may be feisty, they are no match for organised gangs of thieves – especially as there's no CCTV to help them. Can a new consignment of security gadgets, and a masterclass from Richard in the tricks of the shoplifting trade cut down on the pilfering?

Friday
Marvel's Agents of SHIELD
Channel 4, 8pm
It took years to get established as a lucrative movie and TV franchise, but now the Marvel universe is expanding like a loaf with too much yeast. As any fan will tell you, Phil Coulson (Clark Gregg) was apparently killed before the battle of New York during Avengers Assemble, but following his resurrection in this show last year, fans are desperate to see how he came back from the dead. Hopefully we'll find out a few answers this week as Coulson is grilled by the Centipede organisation.

Jonathan Creek
BBC1, 9pm
Despite his wife's phone call promising a low-key 40th birthday party, the lucky Home Office junior Minister at the heart of this final mystery has a real surprise in store: a marquee, loads of gathered friends, and state-of-the-art music to entertain the masses. Except the team from mobile music providers'Sound Trax' never quite make it to the event, and for the problem-solving genius organising the event she has no idea she's about to be kidnapped. Jonathan deduces that she may manage to send some coded SOS to the outside world. Could the phrase 'Waste not…' be the clue to cracking the case?

Big Cat gets a sleeker look

By Andy Enright

Some cars dress up very nicely. The Jaguar XF executive model is one of them. Choose it in supercharged XFR or XFR-S performance guises and it's every bit the BMW M5 rival.

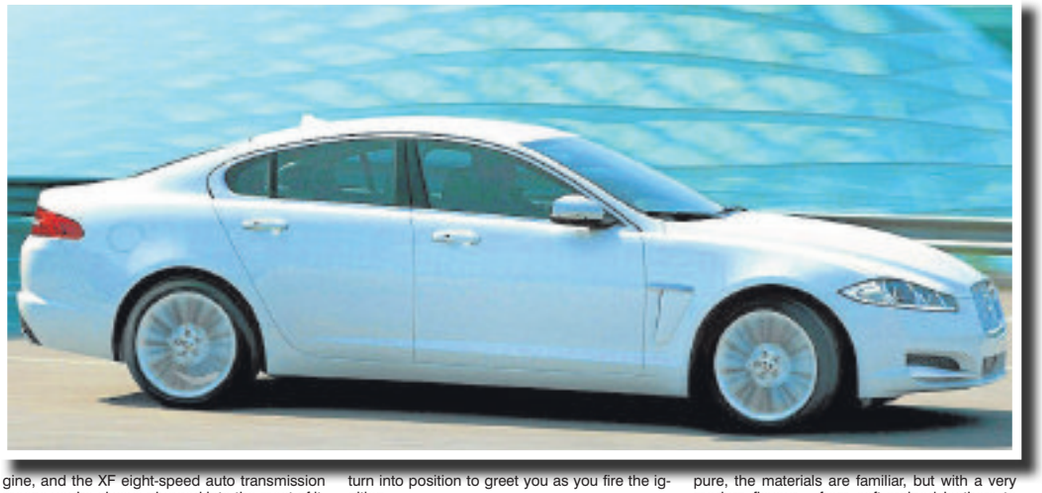
Where Jaguar has historically missed a trick is offering that same look with its more affordable diesel engines and more realistically priced trim levels as, say, BMW does with its M Sport trim on the 5 Series. But the Solihull brand has now caught up. Hence the availability of the R-Sport trim we're looking at here on more dynamic-looking variants of the XF saloon and XF Sportbrake estate.

Order your XF as an R-Sport and you get the standard recipe embellished with much of the look whichcharacterises the range-topping XFR super saloon model. There's a choice of saloon or estate bodystyles and you can select between all three of the main diesel engines in the XF lineup. That means the familiar 2.2-litre powerplant in 163 or 200PS guises, plus the 240PS 3.0-litre diesel V6.

Yes, the R-Sport package merely represents a trim level: there are no mechanical changes over the standard XF. But that doesn't necessarily mean this car is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

If you really want some strong pulling power in your XF R-Sport, there's the option of the 3.0-litre V6 diesel with 240PS. For most, however, there's more relevance in the performance of that 2.2-litre diesel. The entry-level 163PS XF will stop the watch at 9.8 seconds.

But the 200PS version, which is actually just as clean and economical, manages it in a far more sprightly 8.5 seconds, on the way to a 142mph maximum. With 450Nm of torque available from only 2,000rpm, there's no shortage of muscle with this engine, and the XF eight-speed auto transmission means you're always plugged into the meat of it.



Across the XF range, advances have been made in refinement, with active engine mounts (diesels) and sound deadening material featuring on the car as well as redesigned wing mirrors to reduce wind noise.

Since its main facelift back in Spring 2011, the XF has had a much sleeker look, something that's also a feature of the sleek Sportbrake estate. That model has a 1675-litre total loading capacity and there are nearly 100 different ways to configure the interior.

Inside, it's still a special experience. The auto gear selector rises into the palm of your hand on start-up as the dashboard airvents acrobatically turn into position to greet you as you fire the ignition.

If your only experience of XF motoring is of the original version, then in this current model, you'll appreciate the more supportive seats, the smarter satin-feel switches and the classier graphics on the 7-inch touch screen which looks after most of the main dashboard functions.

Relax inside an XF and from the stitched leather dashboard and door cappings to the aluminium and wood furnishings, it really does feel special. The craftsmanship, materials and attention to detail all impress.

Jaguar's designers have sought to find more interesting ways to say 'luxury', and largely, their efforts have worked. The lines are clean and pure, the materials are familiar, but with a very modern flavour – from soft-grained leathers to real wood veneers with a bold, contemporary spin. Even the phosphor-blue interior lighting has its own mood.

No apologies for concentrating on that 2.2-litre diesel engine again. In 163PS form, it's available in the latest ECO2 spec which, amongst other things, uses an engine stop/start system to deliver a 57.7mpg combined cycle fuel figure along with 129g/km of CO2.

If you've set your heart on a Jaguar XF, then you'll not be unaware of the driveway statement your purchase will make. In which case, you're likely to be very tempted by R-Sport spec, even at a £3,000 premium over the standard model.

Response is Rapid to put SEAT Toledo back on track

For second and third generation Toledos, SEAT unwisely deviated from this winning formula and sales were disappointing.

So when the opportunity came to re-invent the MK1 model for the modern era through the simple expedient of re-badging and re-branding Skoda's Rapid model, the Spaniards grabbed it with both hands.

The result is, well, a sensible set of wheels, the kind of car the motoring mags get all sniffy about. But also the kind of car which makes eminent sense to recession-hit families in the current climate. Let's put it to the test.

There are no pretensions here. This car's motoring remit is to get you and your family reliably, safely and comfortably from A to B – no more, no less. You probably won't be approaching your first run around the block with any real expectations of out-of-the-ordinary levels of driving enjoyment and you won't get it.

Having said that, there's relatively little not to like. If you can operate a payphone, then you won't have much trouble getting to grips with the clean, uncluttered controls, all-round visibility is excellent and both steering and gearshift feel direct and positive.

On the subject of transmission, there are three options. Both the entry-level petrol units – the unremarkable three-cylinder 75PS 1.2 12V and the more modern four-cylinder 86PS 1.2 TSI – get the same five-speed manual 'box – the one which the 90PS and 105PS diesel models have.

Go for the 105PS version of the petrol 1.2 TSI and you get six manual speeds and above that model, there's the option of an auto-only 122PS 1.4 TSI petrol variant.

From this little lot, you can't really go too far wrong, provided you don't opt for the entry-level 75PS three-cylinder petrol 1.2. It isn't really up to the task of moving a car of this size along and is far less economic than the four cylinder 86PS 1.2-litre TSI petrol engine, which isn't much more expensive and should really form the starting point of the line-up.

Rest to 62mph here occupies 11.8 seconds on the way to 114mph and if that's not fast enough, opting for this engine in turbocharged 105PS form improves those figures to 10.3 seconds and 121mph, very similar in fact to the performance return you get from the 105PS 1.6-litre diesel (10.4 seconds and 118mph).

SEAT may talk about 'motion and emocion' when it comes to the styling of all its cars, but the truth is a little different here. There's a SEAT-specific front end with its broad, angular headlamps and slender trapezoidal front grille. And a light makeover at the rear too. But these cosmetics apart, this Toledo is pretty much identical to its Skoda Rapid design stablemate.

Enormous

Raise the wide-opening tailgate and you find yourself looking at a simply enormous boot. Though the damper mounts and wheel arches intrude a little from the sides, there's still 550- litres with all the seats in place, so this is nearly 60 per cent larger than the trunk you'll find on a rival Ford Focus and nearly 40 per cent bigger than the boot in SEAT's other family hatch, the Leon.

At the wheel, well it's more Skoda than SEAT, the design clean, functional but not particularly exciting, with many of the surfaces quite hard to the touch and things like the unlined storage bins suggestive of budget brand pricing.

Still, everything is nicely laid out and seemingly built to last, and there are plenty of useful nooks and crannies, including a slot for your parking tickets.

A 'V'-shaped centre console rises up from the footwell to the main dashboard and houses both ventilation and stereo controls.

Through the three-spoke wheel you glimpse a large, clear twin-binnacle instrument display. Nothing then to especially catch the eye, but everything perfectly in its place.

Though this Toledo isn't the most efficient contender in the Focus-class family hatchback sector, it probably does just about enough to satisfy most owners. Most effort has been reserved for the eco-orientated 'Ecomotive' version of this 1.6-litre TDI diesel, which at launch was the only variant in the range to get a Stop/start system, a set-up subsequently added to the 1.2 TSI petrol unit, able to cut the engine when not needed, say when you're stopped at the lights or waiting in traffic.

Thanks both to this and features like low rolling resistance tyres and kinetic energy recouperation, which gathers in energy that would otherwise be lost when cruising or braking, fuel savings of between five and eight per cent and a combined cycle fuel figure of 72.4mpg are possible, though CO2 emissions still can't dip beneath the magic tax-busting 100g/km barrier which some rivals breach – expect 104g/km. An ordinary Toledo 1.6 TDI like this one without the Ecomotive gadgets manages 64.2mpg and 114g/km.

But most sales of this car will be made to petrol people. Folk who should avoid the entry-level three cylinder 75PS 1.2 with its rather poor returns, 46.3mpg on the combined cycle and 137g/km of CO2.

The impressive four-cylinder 86PS 1.2, as well as being not much more expensive, more refined and considerably faster, manages 55.4mpg and 119g/km of CO2. Opt to get this engine in pokier 105PS form and the returns actually improve – expect 56.5mpg and 116g/km.

The Vauxhall ADAM is first when putting on the style

Talk to anyone who really knows about cars and they'll tell you how good the latest generation Corsa is. Trouble is, the man in the street still associates the Corsa with the mediocre old vehicles which replaced the Nova and weren't particularly great.

The ADAM rides on a cut down version of the Corsa's chassis and that can only be good news.

It's been extensively re-engineered to suit the demands of the shorter wheelbase. It's ostensibly quite a simple set-up but Vauxhall has invested years of know-how into it.

Up front are a set of MacPherson struts while the rear end utilises a torsion beam set-up. Ease of use on urban roads is enhanced by a CITY mode, which increases the electronic power steering system's assistance at lower speeds.

This is a car that's going to sell largely on whether the styling chimes with new car buyers and Vauxhall certainly can't be accused of going at it half-cocked. There's a lot going on, the design work attributed to Brit, Mark Adams' team in Europe.

The ADAM incorporates a 'floating' roof which is visually disconnected from the body, which works particularly well with two-tone colour schemes. It looks like no other Vauxhall but still incorporates a bunch of existing styling cues.

Like MINI, Vauxhall is looking to appeal to the customer's sense of individuality in the sheer amount of colour combinations and materials. Wheels range from 16in in size for entry-level cars and there are 17 and 18in options further up the range, with a lowered sports chassis part of the deal.

Unlike many cars which offer striking exterior designs, but an interior which betrays a sudden curtailment of development budget, the cabin of the ADAM is, if anything, even bolder than the exterior.

Riotous

There's extensive use of body-coloured trim inserts, not only on the dashboard but also reaching along the centre console and onto the steering wheel, aimed at giving the interior a real riotous personality.

A seven-inch touch screen interface is the big point of interest from a technological perspective. It's both iPhone and android compatible, and can access internet-downloaded apps in the same manner as the latest Renault Clio and Peugeot 208. Where specified, the navigation and infotainment controls are all marshalled by the touch screen. There's even a choice of headlining, including an LED-lit starlight roof trim.

Prices for the 1.2-litre ADAM start at just over £11,000, so there's a saving of around £300 over the lesser-powered of the two 1.4-litre petrol models. Whichever engine you choose, the ADAM is offered with three trim levels, JAM (fashionable/colourful), GLAM (elegant/sophisticated) and SLAM (racy/sporty).

The latest generation ESP system is standard on all models and it also includes a Hill Start Assist function. The wonderful star-effect roof and a heated steering wheel are options which differentiate the Vauxhall from run-of-the-mill city car contenders and these features are key in a market that's not always led fully by upfront pricing.

Expect 53.3mpg on the combined cycle and 124g/km of CO2 from a 1.2-litre ADAM, figures which improve to 56.5mpg and 118g/km if you specify the extra cost ecoFLEX package. As well as low rolling resistance tyres, this includes a start/stop system which cuts the engine when you don't need it, stuck in traffic or waiting at the lights.

All enough to make a difference of around five per cent to your figures, stats you can hopefully replicate on a day-to-day basis thanks to an 'Eco Drive Assistant' – basically a section of the trip computer which monitors energy consumption and indicates when to shift up.

Swift flies into UK market

By Graham Breeze

THE 4X4 sector is traditionally packed with massive and expensive models – equally at home on the farm track or outside the school gate.

So it is refreshing to see Suzuki clambering for a share of the UK market with the diminutive Swift 4X4.

The model has already enjoyed success in Europe and Suzuki bosses are confident that this unconventional supermini can fill a void over here, appealing to those needing a car with more traction during the winter months, but not wanting a conventional SUV.

The 4x4 is available with five doors and with the 93bhp 1.2-litre petrol engine from the regular Swift. It comes with a choice of two trims – SZ3 and SZ4.

The difference in appearance is minimal though the 4X4 is 65kg heavier than the two-wheel-drive version and ride height is 25mm higher but he overall ground clearance is identical to the regular Swift which tends to defeat the object a little.

There was no doubting that the test model – a 1.2 SZ4 – could cope with a bit of farm tracking, but even Suzuki don't claim this is a real off-roader and it lacks a low-ratio gearbox. But it will help you cope with the frost and snow and might just get you where you want to go when lots of others fail.

On the road there was very little difference from the regular model, though the extra weight meant that the driver had to work even harder to produce results.

The 4x4 is available in SZ3 or SZ4 trim, and both versions are well-equipped. SZ3 models get seven airbags, electric front windows, air-conditioning, heated door mirrors, and a four-speaker stereo with Bluetooth and a USB input.

Along with extra plastic cladding and skid plates, SZ4 models get climate control, automatic headlights, keyless entry and start, electric rear windows and cruise control.

The cabin is identical to the Swift two-wheel-drive model's with the same smart-looking and simple dashboard.

There is good all-round visibility and most height-adjustable driver's seat and steering wheel. SZ4 cars also have reach adjustment for the wheel.

The Swift may have enough room for four but there isn't enough space in the boot for very much luggage and the SZ4 got nowhere near the golf club test.

Power to all four wheels doesn't lead to much damage to fuel consumption figures, with just a loss of 5mpg to see average figures drop to 51.3mpg.

All models get seven airbags, electric front windows, air-conditioning, heated door mirrors, and a four-speaker stereo with Bluetooth and a USB input. The SZ4 gets extra plastic cladding and skid plates, climate control, automatic headlights, keyless entry and start, electric rear windows and cruise control.

Suzuki are really testing the UK water with this model, a model sold in over 100 countries.

The question is whether the addition of 4X4 will attract buyers from the more conventional markets. There's little evidence that there are enough changes to gain this model significant sales in the UK.

Popular model is refreshed

The 2014 Geneva Motor Show will see the première of the new Citroën C1 – a fresh take on a popular model that has sold more than 760,000 examples worldwide since its launch in 2005.

The latest version of Citroën's city car is available in both three and five-door versions, as well as a new open-top body style called Airscape. A car with a strong personality, delivering an upbeat response to urban mobility requirements, the new Citroën C1 reflects the bold renewal of Citroën's C-line.

Citroën C1 features:

More design: With dynamic lines and a cheerful front-end gaze, characterised by its headlights, the C1 is an immediate head-turner. Bi-tone versions and brightly coloured interiors underline the playful character and joie de vivre. The new C1 is unmistakably a member of the new Citroën family

Greater comfort: For everyday driving. Agile and nippy, the new C1 marries compact exterior dimensions (just 3.46m), with easy handling and a turning circle of 4.80m.

Ride comfort is further improved, thanks to the C1's exceptional suspension comfort and impeccable road handling.

More useful technology: Including the 7" Touch Driver Interface and Mirror Screentechnology, to copy and run smartphone apps from the touchscreen.

The new Citroën C1 can also be fitted with keyless entry and start, as well as a reversing camera and hill-start assist.

Optimised running costs: Weighing just 840kg and available with new-generation petrol engines, the new Citroën C1 ranks among the best in class for fuel consumption. A must for many drivers today

My Wee Man

I watched you suffer I saw you die but all I could do was sit close by, you went away, we had to part, God eased your pain but broke my heart.

You gave me many things in life, gifts both great and small but most of all you gave me love, the greatest gift of all.

Love always.

Your loving Wife Gladys, Sons Ian and Adam, and Michelle.

Your painful days are over, your restless nights have passed, God took you in His arms and whispered peace at last.

All our love, Pat (our wench) and Colin.

Two early goals and Pitmen left reeling

Boston United 4
Hednesford Town 0

BOSTON United made up vital ground on Hednesford Town after comfortably coming out on top with a convincing win between two Skrill North play-off chasing sides at the Jakemans Stadium.

Despite a lively start from Charlie Anagho-Ntamark for the away side, skipper Ben Bailey gave away a penalty when Ricky Miller drew a misjudged tackle from the defender.

Miller picked himself up and superbly despatched the penalty into the left-hand corner despite Dan Crane guessing the right way.The second goal came when a simple cross was played in from the right where Scott Garner jumped highest to loop a header over the helpless goalkeeper.

The Pitmen were clearly rocked by conceding the two early goals. In the second half John Disney lost a tackle high up the pitch and the ball fell to Liam Agnew who slotted the ball past Crane. The fourth goal came on 79 minutes through substitute Ben Milnes.

Lockmen do double on Rangers

Smethwick Rangers 1
Willenhall Town 3

The Lockmen completed their double over a lack-lustre Smethwick Rangers.

The home side saw a fine attacking move on four minutes which ended with a side-footed effort fired across goal.

Willenhall were much brighter and deservedly took the lead when Chris Hilliard was found in the box by a crisp cross and he had enough time to bring down and fire into the roof of the net.

The lead was then stretched as Carl Whyte saw his header guide home a corner.

However, the hosts were given a lifeline when they halved the deficit just before the break when a cross from the left was converted.

In the second half Danny Hemmings and Jack Pottinger both had near misses before the match was settled by a third goal from Tony Clift with 16 minutes of the game left.

Hockey side come away with a draw

Sheffield 2 Cannock 2

AFTER their emphatic 8-3 demolishing of Hampstead and Westminster last week, Cannock travelled to Sheffield to play the student side, who sat just three points behind them in the league.

This was an opportunity to move further away from the relegation play-off position that Sheffield currently held.

Early in the game Sheffield who started to dominate and Cannock seemed to wave the white flag and indifferent marking gifted Sheffield with two scoring opportunities. They dispatched these to put Cannock behind by two goals at half time. Whatever the Cannock coaches, Andy Mitchell and Simon Sutch, had to say at half time must have had an impact because the Chase Park side came out with all guns blazing.

Cannock pressed Sheffield high up the pitch and pressured their every move until they started to make mistakes.

Chances fell to Dave Beckett, Marc Edwards and Nick Bandurak but the score remained the same.

With the Cannock faithful drowning out the opposition crowd and urging their team on,

Hockey

Cannock eventually found the net through a Pete Jackson bullet into the D, which Arjun Drayton Chana deflected into the goal.

Cannock continued their pressure, and despite one momentary lapse which presented Sheffield with a missed open net, they remained dominant.

After a series of penalty corners Pete Jackson eventually found a route to goal to level the score. With five minutes remaining Cannock pushed all into trying to find the winner. On balance they would have been worthy of the win but the extra two points eluded them.

The NOW Pensions National League side have moved four points away from the relegation play-off spot with three games remaining. Cannock Under-18s took part in the quarter finals of the EH Cup against Belper.

They made a poor start and were 2-0 down at half time. Goals from Callum Stacey and Louie Morris brought Cannock level but they failed to find the winner. The game then went to penalties which Cannock lost 3-1. There were mixed results for theCannock Midlands Hockey sides.

The 2nd Team strengthened their grip on the number two spot with a bruising 2-0 win over Barford Tigers. The third Team had a convincing 9-0 win over Bridgnorth.

The Central League Premier sides the Fourths and Fifths lost 2-1 against Belper and 4-1 against Northampton respectively. The Sixths and Sevenths had more success with the sixes winning 2-1 against Lichfield 5s and the 7s winning 1-0 against Telford and Wrekin Fourths.

Late equaliser in this cracking derby clash

Heath Hayes 1 Walsall Wood 1

WHAT a cracking local derby. Both sides going hammer and tongs witnessed by a good-sized crowd treated to all that was good in a game that was a credit to The Midland Football Alliance.

Wood looked by far the better side in the first half playing some delightful football with the home side prepared to soak up the pressure and hit their opponents on the break.

Hayes defended resolutely and home keeper Ryan Goodwin never had a serious save to make.

Hayes had the most clear cut chance of the first half when deep into injury time Andrew Davies found himself in the clear but fired his shot straight at Wood keeper Rhashid Gill.

Relentless

The relentless pace continued into the second half but neither side had clear-cut chances. Hayes began to push more men forward and Dan Scragg came within a whisker of giving the home side the lead. Ben Maddox sent a header inches wide.

Hayes should have taken the lead when Tom Hurdman made a fine run down the right flank but his excellent cross was steered wide by the onrushing Liam Degville.

The deadlock was broken on 62 minutes when Max Black picked up the ball following a clearance from a corner and ran at the home defence. He played the ball to striker Joey Butlin who held the ball up well before releasing Black to fire into the bottom corner of the net. Moments later Butlin received his marching orders following a bad tackle on Hayes captain Adam Robinson.

Football

Hayes sent on Chris Geldart in an effort to add for fire power up front and he came close with a diving header that went narrowly wide but despite their numerical disadvantage Wood always looked dangerous on the break.

On 82 minutes Green cut inside from wide right only to be stopped by Gavin Saunders.

Minutes later Harry Phillips put the ball into the box but it was headed wide by Waple. Then from a right wing free kick keeper Goodwin got in a header that was easily saved.

Deep into injury time Hayes got the equaliser when Tom Green shook off the challenge of two Wood defenders before clipping over a cross for Dave Waple to head home.

Cheslyn chasing a hat-trick of cup titles

A CHESLYN Hay football team could land a hat-trick of knockout wins this season.

Many of the players of Hawkins Inex have played together since they were eight, starting out as Wyrley Juniors Inex in local youth leagues.

Now playing adult football, the team is in Division Two of the Cannock Chase League and are chasing success on three fronts. They have reached the quarter-final of the Ron Terry Cup, a knockout competition for teams in divisions three and four. They play league leaders Victoria for a place in the semis. They are also in the last four of the Cannock Charity Cup, played by teams in divisions two, three and four. It raises money for cancer and guide dog charities.

Despite being in the lower part of the league, Inex are in the last four of the divisional cup, where again Victoria stand in their way to the final.

Cannock ladies in battle for the victory

Cannock Ladies 1sts 2
Sutton C-field Ladies 2nds1

CANNOCK had much of the play however found themselves 1-0 following a Sutton counter attack which left Cannock defence light.

Cannock did not give up the fight and were not willing to let go of their undefeated run. Their efforts were rewarded when Nic Martin shot from top D and beat the keeper. Sarah Martin giving the team their deserved three points.

The first goal came from Gemma Brookes, the second from captain Laura Thomas, the third came from Mary Clark. Cannock were caught napping after half time with Lymm scoring 32 seconds in. This gave Cannock the wake up they needed and saw Sammi Holland forcing an own goal. The next three goals came from Sophie Tibbetts and the final score from Julia Mansell.

Home win secures third spot

Sporting Khalsa 2
Wellington 1

A LATE goal from Sam Pearson secured Khalsa the victory and consolidated third place in the league.

Within a minute from the start of the second half John Cordy put Khalsa ahead with a volley from inside the box. As Khalsa pressed for the important second goal, Wellington scored on the break in the 65th minute.

Both teams created chances and Khalsa should have been awarded a penalty in the 75th minute when John Cordy was fouled in the box but the referee decided against the appeals.

In the 80th minute Khalsa were reduced to 10 men when Hayden Williams received his second yellow card.

With seven minutes to go Sam Pearson scored for Khalsa. Wellington caused a few jitters as they pressed for an equalizer.

Chasetown extend their unbeaten run

Chasetown 2 Newcastle Town1

CHASETOWN recorded a vital three points over a play-off rival to extend their unbeaten league run even further.

It took The Scholars just three minutes to take the lead as Jazz Luckie marked his home debut with a cool run and shot which left Adam Alcock no chance in the Newcastle goal.

Luckie almost made it 2-0 with a mishit shot which bobbled awkwardly for Alcock who stuck out a right hand and just about managed to flick it wide of the post.

The visitors were far from out of the game though and twice struck the frame of the Chasetown goal, once off the bar from a cross and the other a low shot from Joshua Gordon which came back off the post.

Despite conceding those chances, Chasetown were looking likely to score every time they went forward and Nick Wellecomme and Jazz Luckie both went close to doubling the lead – with perhaps both making the wrong choices to shoot when, on each occasion, squaring it to their strike partner in arguably a better position. Newcastle were incensed by the Scholars second goal as it appeared Simon Brown may have controlled the ball with an arm as the attack gained momentum.

Brown was allowed to continue though and his cross to the far post was, at first, mis-controlled by Lee Butler, though if his first touch let him down a bit, his second didn't as he thrashed a shot with severe venom off the inside of the bar and post and over the line with Alcock flat-footed.

A Brown free kick and a drive from Danny Bragoli saw Chasetown end the half on top, though with the chances Newcastle had created, the 2-0 half time score could have been anything from 4-0 to 2-2.

It was therefore no surprise when Newcastle pulled a goal back nine minutes into the second half as Thomas Urwin let fly from range and no goalkeeper in the world would have got close to keeping the ball out.

In a classic end-to-end game, chances were coming thick and fast to both sides and Ryan Price had to be at his best to keep out a close range header from Matthew Lowe.

Chasetown were dangerous on the counter attack though and Alcock made a great save to deny Wellecomme as the striker broke through the visitors back line. Both Wellecomme and Luckie had impressed for Chasetown but it was Price who made the strongest claim for man of the match with a double save at the death. It looked certainTim Sanders would level the scores but Price got saved it and it seemed inevitable that Urwin would poke home the rebound but Price saved that too.

Penalty seals the deal as Scholars triumph

Sutton Coldfield Town 0 Chasetown2

WHATEVER happens in the remaining 10 league games, Craig Harris' second season in charge of Chasetown will culminate in the Walsall Senior Cup Final and the chance of his first trophy as Scholars boss.

Chasetown were the better side from first whistle until last with keeper Ryan Price as ever on top form. Now, the Church Street men have to wait until the scheduled quarter-final between Walsall Wood and Tividale on March 27.

Football

This will be followed by the semi-final with old rivals Rushall Olympic for the final, likely to be at The Banks's Stadium, Walsall.

Sutton lined up with no fewer than seven ex-Chasetown players and one of those, Dean Perrow, limped out of play after 29 minutes in a tense opening period of the game.

Chasetown had the best opening as Jazz Luckie was put clear inside the penalty area but former Chase keeper Lee Evans turned the effort away.

Evans could get nowhere near the opening goal though. Minutes before the break Danny Bragoli rifled in a contender for goal of the season with a ferocious long-range effort.

Chasetown's nerves may have been settled early in the second half when Nick Wellecomme seemed certain to make it 2-0 but the ball sat up perhaps a little too high on the 3G surface and the Chase number 9 fired over the bar from close range.

Luckie left the field through injury and his replacement Luke Bottomer caused the Sutton back line all sorts of problems with his pace and strength and almost added to the Chasetown lead when he out muscled Josh Smith and forced a low save from Evans.

Sutton did create some chances though. Price saved an effort from former Scholars skipper Lee Parsons and then Luke Chapman's cross eluded everyone and flicked the crossbar en route to safety.

Chasetown were quicker to every ball though and Ramone Stephens was drawing frequent free kicks outside the box and eventually he was sent tumbling inside the box and the referee had no hesitation pointing to the spot.

With regular spot kicker Simon Brown on the bench, Lee Butler took responsibility and sent Evans the wrong way to double Chasetown's lead.

Nick Wellecomme and Scott Lycett compete for the ball during the match which Chasetown dominated

Gr-eight show as Bartley shutout

Premier Division Cup – Round One
Sporting Khalsa 8
Bartley Green 0

AFTER the disappointment on Saturday Sporting Khalsa returned to winning ways by progressing into Round 2 of the Premier Division Cup with a shutout of Bartley Green.

Khalsa went romping to an 8-0 victory over Bartley in a game which they dominated right from the first kick of the match and never really giving their opponents a foothold.

Khalsa started the game in complete control, having four chances to take the lead inside the opening 15 minutes before a hat-trick from Liam Hughes saw Khalsa open up three-goal lead before the half-time break.

The second half saw Khalsa continue to dominate the game with a further five goals coming with a brace from Liam Hughes to take his tally to five goals, couple of goals from Mark Habbershaw and a late goal from Leon Brown which saw the game well and truly shut down for Bartley.

Benteke's best 'is still to come'

VILLA boss Paul Lambert today insisted Christian Benteke's best is yet to come as the striker targeted a late-season goal spree after shooting down Norwich.

The Belgium international netted twice in three first-half minutes as his side went 11th in the Premier League with a vital 4-1 victory over Norwich at Villa Park yesterday.

But Lambert says the 23-year-old is still improving after signalling a return to his best with a fine all-round display against the Canaries after a dip in form.

"As soon as he scored the first goal, his game was great," said Lambert. "He was controlling the ball when there were people trying to get to it and when he's at it he's an absolute handful, world class.

"I knew it was going to be hard (this season) because the lad has only been in Britain for a year-and-a-half. Benteke said: "I hope now I'm going to keep my level up."

Lockmen get point from draw

Shifnal 0 Willenhall 0

THE Lockmen battled to another point at Shifnal in their fight against relegation from the West Midlands Premier.

The game's main talking point came on 14 minutes when Tony Clift was played clean through on goal.

He shot from 35 yards and the visiting keeper Vitor Pinheiro made a save with his hands outside his penalty box, but received only a yellow card.

Lockmen keeper James Wilson made one superb save just before half-time to touch a fine effort over the bar. Carl Whyte then saw a free header flash inches wide from an Eddie Wilson corner.

The second half was a little more open but both sides struggled to create chances. Whyte went close with headers from corners while substitute Jake Morgan saw one header go just over.

Jackett works on cunning tactics

CUNNING Kenny Jackett says he is having to keep coming up with ways for Wolves to win as he bids to stay one step ahead of their rivals in the battle to go up.

Saturday's 3-0 win against Port Vale was ultimately comfortable but only after their Staffordshire neighbours matched their 4-2-3-1 formation and gave them a scare by wasting the chance to take a first-half lead through Tom Pope.

Bakary Sako's deflected drive eventually gave Wolves the breakthrough six minutes into the second half and they never looked back as Nouha Dicko's brace inside three minutes sealed their seventh win in a row.

"Tactically we need to work out a second or a third way of doing things if this particular way at present doesn't work for any individual case – which looked the case on Saturday for quite a long while," said head coach Jackett.

"We were playing well but not necessarily getting that breakthrough. Saturday was a good example.

"I was just thinking about changing things when we scored the first goal and then the game changed completely. It opened out and went end to end and I'm pleased to say we got more goals.

"I think you have to find different ways of doing it."

Drop fear is dismissed

BOSS Paul Lambert today dismissed fears of relegation at Villa. He insisted he was never worried about the drop after Villa took a huge leap to safety.

Sunday's 4-1 win over Norwich put them seven points clear of the Premier League's bottom three.

"I never really look down," said Lambert. "People were saying last week that West Ham were well and truly out of it and all of a sudden we are level with them.

"We will try to get to the next team above us and I never look at it negatively, I always think we can win games."

"We are a young team and we are miles from where we want to be.

"But we are slowly but surely getting there and if they keep growing and being confident their careers will keep going.

Baggies' season is a soap opera – Morrison

Football

JAMES MORRISON has branded Albion's troubled season a 'soap opera'.

The Scotland midfielder admitted he was grateful to escape events at The Hawthorns to link up with his country for tomorrow's friendly against Poland but insisted the Baggies are all "pulling together" for the cause.

The press revealed Albion players' concerns about coach Pepe Mel's methods last week, while more discontent led to the departure of Dave McDonough, the club's director of technical performance and scouting.

The Baggies sacked Steve Clarke in December while they have suspended striker Nicolas Anelka after he was handed a five-match FA ban for his 'quenelle' goal celebration.

And Morrison, speaking in Scotland, said: "There just seems to have been a lot of s going on. It does feel like a soap opera – you should try being involved in it. It's been one thing after another at West Brom with managers changing and people getting suspended.

"It's probably hassle that we didn't need. There was even talk of the new manager going last week.

"It's not been ideal but the lads have been great. We are all pulling together. But it's good for me to come away and join up with the Scotland squad. It's a different mindset – a different environment. That's good for your confidence."

Meanwhile, Albion goalkeeper Ben Foster was today tipped to start for England at Wembley tomorrow as the Baggies faced the potential loss of Billy Jones for their next three games.

Reports from the England camp claim Foster will line up for his country against Denmark as boss Roy Hodgson assesses potential alternatives to No.1 Joe Hart ahead of the World Cup.

But Jones faces three weeks on the sidelines with a hamstring tear, ruling him out of the vital Premier League clashes with Manchester United, Swansea and Hull. However, Albion are hopeful Stephane Sessegnon and Claudio Yacob will figure against United on Saturday (12.45pm) after returning to training.

Jones has been diagnosed with a hamstring tear, meaning a recovery period of up to a month from the time of the injury – the 1-1 draw with Fulham on February 22.

EXTRA-TIME GOAL NETS SPOT IN SEMIS

Birmingham Senior Cup Quarter Final
Hednesford Town 4 Birmingham City 3

HOLDERS Hednesford Town continued their romance with the Birmingham Senior Cup as Neil Harvey scored an extra time winner to beat Birmingham City.

The Pitmen now face Tamworth in the semi-finals. The Blues started no less than five players who had made appearances in the Championship this season but Hednesford chased, harried and fought valiantly for 120 minutes.

Scotland international Andrew Shinnie started the goal glut on 12 minutes as he turned in midfield and hit an unstoppable shot beyond Dan Crane but, with Jamey Osborne in particular showing once again why he is tipped to be playing at a higher level, The Pitmen were the better side.

Performance

Osborne finally opened his Hednesford account on 24 minutes, sweeping in a loose ball from a freekick. Francino Francis headed against the crossbar three minutes later but Birmingham saw Koby Arthur's shot saved bravely by Crane.

Blues finished a breathless first half the stronger but it was Hednesford who took the lead just after the break as Sullivan ran onto a poorly-defended long ball and dummied Callum Preston, leaving the keeper flat on his back, to tap into an empty net.

Football

Osborne won and then scored a freekick from 25 yards out to further underline his credentials but Blues struck back twice in the last 16 minutes through Peter Lovenkrands and, with the last kick of the match, Liam Truslove looped his header over Crane.

As the match entered extra time the pace understandably dropped but, returning from a lengthy injury lay off, Harvey showed what The Pitmen fans have been missing as he headed in the winner from a Darren Campion corner in the 116th minute to end a thoroughly entertaining game of football.

Hankey heading for city

TED Hankey will renew his fractious relationship with darts fans in Wolverhampton at an exhibition with Wayne Mardle next week.

He's back on Black Country turf, alongside PDC commentator Wayne Mardle, at the Cleveland Arms pub on Stowheath Lane next Tuesday night.

The Telford-based thrower is back with the BDO, after two years with the PDC, but will still be a part of the city's Grand Slam in November as an automatic qualifier.

Hankey's exploits with the BDO, where he's a two-time world champion and a semi-finalist as recently as 2012, ironically earned him his spot in the PDC event.

He's been a part of it since 2009, where he was fined £250 after his group game defeat to Scott Waites for an outburst at the crowd booing during the match.

In 2010, he became Public Enemy No 1 after describing the Grand Slam faithful as "a bunch of muppets" in a post-match interview, after going out to Steve Beaton.

Tickets, which are just £10, are available from the Cleveland Arms pub, online at www.clevelandarms.com or by calling 01902 451 021.

A goodbye to Baggies' Stan

ALBION paid tribute to Stan Rickaby after the former Baggies full-back died at the age of 89.

The right-back made 205 appearances, scoring twice during five years at The Hawthorns.

TheEngland international won a 1954 FA Cup-winners' medal after playing in every round before missing the final due to injury.
